

EXTEND GOVERNOR BATTLE

Nullification Of Portal-To-Portal Pay Being Asked

Senator Says Present Interpretation Farthest From Idea Of Framers Of Bill

HEARINGS BEING HELD BY SENATE

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Sen. Ellender (D) La., who helped write the final draft of the fair labor standards act in 1937, declared today that "by no stretch of the imagination" did congress intend to authorize portal-to-portal pay on grounds now claimed by labor unions.

Ellender's statement was made as half-a-dozen industry spokesmen went before a senate judiciary subcommittee to testify in behalf of legislation to nullify the supreme court's recent decision upholding labor's right to back portal pay.

Follows A. F. L. Head's Statement

The senator's remarks followed a statement by AFL President William Green in which the labor leader called the barrage of CIO court suits "unfair and unwarranted." Green warned that the double-damage suits for upwards of five billion dollars invite an "invasion" of labor's collective bargaining rights.

Ellender was a member of the 1937 conference committee which drafted the law upon which the supreme court decision was based. He said: "I think the supreme court is wrong about the intent of congress. By no stretch of the imagination did the conference expect anybody to interpret their language to mean that a man could come to work in a full dress suit and charge the company for the time it took him to change into working clothes."

The Louisiana Democrat is a member of the senate labor committee, which has scheduled public hearings to open Jan. 23 on the larger issue of overall labor-reform legislation. Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, committee chairman, announced that the hearings on all pending bills are to end by March 1.

PA NEW OBSERVES

In a news item from a district north of New Castle, Pa. News notes a claim that a robin has been sighted during the past few days.

Lawrence County may be one of the smaller counties of Pennsylvania but the farmers of this county are making "an sit up and take notice at the State Farm Show at Harrisburg, according to reports of awards being made there.

Lloyd Thompson, of 628 East Washington street, while driving along route 30, saw three deer in front of him on the highway, in the vicinity of Muddy Creek. He stopped to allow the animals to get off the road into an adjoining field. In their hurry to get away, one fell and another stumbled over the fallen one.

On Wednesday afternoon, disappointment "was written on the face" of a squirrel. With springlike weather, the fine looking rodent made its reappearance after a couple of months in the 600 block of East Washington street, and found it was unable to get into the fruit market to forage. The little fellow and some buddies had previously found openings and made away with quite a few nuts.

Declare Portal-Pay Situation Threat To Industry Solvency

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(INS)—Representatives of manufacturers told Congress today that the portal-to-portal pay situation is a "fantastic threat to the solvency of American industry."

Spokesmen for industries declared that the Supreme Court's decision in the portal case will "destroy" law-abiding employers and be more severe on those paying highest wages to labor.

The witnesses testified before a Senate judiciary subcommittee and laid down a pattern of proposed legislation to nullify the portal pay suits.

"Fantastic" Threat

Charles R. Hook, president of the American Rolling Mills Co., of Middletown, O., voiced the "fantastic" threat to American industry.

Hook testified that suits filed

Gruesome Murder Is Probed In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 16.—(INS)—Police intensified their investigation today into the gruesome mutilation murder of an unidentified girl whose nude body, cut in half at the waist, was found in a vacant lot.

Veteran detectives described the killing as one of the most brutal in Los Angeles crime annals.

Police scientists' with admittedly few promising clues at their disposal, said the girl died after hours of torture.

They said the slayer trussed the girl's hands and feet in ropes and similarly bound her head. Clinical evidence disclosed that the victim possibly was killed while in a bathtub.

The body, found not far from Memorial Coliseum, was described as

Volcano Spilling Molten Lava In Province Of Albay

MANILA, Jan. 16.—(INS)—A state of emergency was proclaimed today in the entire province of Albay, where the Mayon volcano is spilling molten lava toward three towns.

Emergency measures were ordered by provincial Governor Venancio Zigo as the volcanic fireworks gathered in intensity. Eruptions followed by earth tremors sent hundreds of persons fleeing from the area.

Many persons are reported missing, but the only confirmed casualties so far are three laborers who were smothered to death under blankets of falling ashes.

Terrifying rivers of hot lava spewed forth from the cone toward three towns at the base of Mayon mountain—Libog, Camalig and Legaspi.

Refugees from these towns and remote settlements in the province were stampeding in ever-increasing numbers to designated evacuation centers.

Report 15 Miners Killed In Blast At Plymouth, Pa

Gas Explosion Occurs In Hard Coal Mine On Wednesday Evening

MINERS KILLED BY CONCUSSION

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Jan. 16.—(INS)—Fifteen hard coal miners were known dead today and two others injured in a gas explosion at the Nottingham mine of the Glen Alden Coal Company in nearby Plymouth.

The blast occurred between 5 and 6 p. m. and officials announced at 11 p. m. last night that they had accounted for all workers.

ADD REPORT

Victims of the explosion were trapped in what is known as the top Ross vein, 850 feet beneath the surface and about 2,000 feet from the bottom of the shaft.

Top Ross vein extends under the Susquehanna river and the scene of the explosion was located as directly under the river near the Carey avenue bridge which links Plymouth with Wilkes-Barre.

Bodies of the victims were found together and the company reported they apparently had been killed by concussion.

The force of the explosion sent a column of dust rolling toward the foot of the mine shaft but lives of other miners were saved by prompt warnings.

Eighteen At Work

Eighteen men were working in the vein where the blast occurred. Three of them survived but two were taken to Wilkes-Barre General hospital. The third survivor was uninjured and went home.

No fire followed the blast but rescue workers under personal supervision of Edward Griffith, president and general manager of the mine, proceeded with caution because of the danger of carbon monoxide gas.

Considerable damage was reported in the area affected by the blast but it was said repairs would be completed within a few days.

Ford Announces Price Reductions

"Shock Treatment" To Halt Rising Spiral Of Prices, Says Company

REDUCTIONS ARE EFFECTIVE TODAY

DETROIT, Jan. 16.—(INS)—Young Henry Ford II has reduced the price of Ford cars from $15 to $50 in what he described as a "shock treatment" to halt the rising spiral of prices.

The reductions effective today are the first offered by any auto company since before the war and returns the Ford company to its original position as manufacturer of the lowest priced car.

Young Ford announced the slash in a gesture reminiscent of his grandfather and namesake. He said: "The Ford Motor company has lost millions of dollars since V-J Day, even after all tax adjustments, more than a million of our customers are waiting for delivery of their cars at present prices, but we are immediately reducing prices of every Ford car."

"This," he continued, "is our down payment toward a continued high level of production and employment in the months ahead."

Ford disclosed that for the first time since the war Ford supplier plants are free of strikes. He admitted that production is still limited.

Anglo-French Treaty Of Alliance Declared To Be Imminent

LONDON, Jan. 16.—(INS)—English public opinion today viewed announcement of the imminent Anglo-French treaty of alliance as providing a keystone for a stable Europe in the future.

The London Press paid editorial tribute to both French Minister Ernest Bevin and French Premier Leon Blum for accomplishing the agreement to draw the treaty. They termed the achievement as "an outstanding diplomatic success."

The alliance was agreed to in talks between Blum and British officials in London this week.

Rowland Renamed Head Of Board At Jameson Hospital

Annual Re-Organization Meeting Is Held Wednesday Afternoon At Hospital

JAMES M. SMITH, SR. IS GIVEN HONOR

At the annual re-organization meeting of the Board of Directors of the Jameson Memorial hospital, last year's officers were re-elected. Roger W. Rowland being renamed as president of the board. The other officers are: vice president, Robert H. Cunningham; treasurer, George R. Balph; secretary, William D. Coburn.

The affairs of the hospital were shown to be in excellent condition by the annual reports of the officers. James M. Smith Sr. was named director emeritus, and three new directors were named to the board to fill vacancies. They are: Clyde M. Whitaker, James M. Smith Jr. and Jacob P. Rantz.

James M. Smith, Sr., who has reached the age of retirement, has served the Jameson Memorial hospital as a member of the board of directors since the hospital was opened, and has been one of its most interested patrons. His election as director emeritus is a fitting tribute to his many years of service to the hospital.

The other directors are: George D. Blair Jr., Hon. W. Walter Brannan, Howard B. Cummings, Robert A. Eckles, Reuben J. Elliott, Jack Gerson, H. L. Gordon, Thomas H. Hartman, Alex Crawford Hoyt, Charles H. Johnson Jr., Norman A. Martin, John W. McIlwraith, Mrs. Lucy T. Ray, William F. Moody, Charles W. Read, L. B. Round, Emanuel Shenkan and Clyde E. Smith Jr.

P.A.C. Spent Almost Half Million Dollars In Recent Election

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(INS)—A final campaign report on file today with the clerk of the House disclosed that the CIO Political Action Committee spent almost a half-million dollars in the 1946 elections.

The report, submitted by George Rettinger, comptroller, listed expenditures at $448,085 and receipts at $277,844. The latter included $55,144 received from the "sale of literature at cost."

Contributions from unions totaled $36,696, plus the $55,144 received from the sale of literature, while expenditures from what was termed the PAC's "trade union account" totaled $296,393.

Individual contributions amounted to $164,004, with expenditures from the "individual contributions account" listed at $151,693.

The report filed by the CIO-PAC did not include receipts and expenditures of its affiliated National Citizens' Political Action Committee. The latter report has not yet been filed.

JUST TOO MUCH

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 16.—(INS)—Teresa E. Lund, 22-year-old Pittsburgh waitress, told a judge in divorce court that she didn't mind being deserted on her wedding night but when her husband took her wedding and engagement rings, that was too much.

To add to the insult, Mrs. Lund testified, her husband, Thomas, of Bronx, N. Y., even took all the wedding presents.

She was granted the divorce.

Docks Of London Stand Idle Today Due To Walkout

(BULLETIN)

LONDON, Jan. 16.—(INS)—London's paralyzing 12-day strike of truckers was settled today.

The workers agreed in negotiations between trade union officials and strikers representatives to return to work Saturday morning.

Up until the last minute workers walked away from related jobs in support of the striking truckers.

The docks of London stood idle today as all of the city's stevedores and other waterfront workers joined the contentious wildcat walkout in defiance to the government's use of troops to move food.

The complete work stoppage at the waterfront swelled the number of workmen idle in London to more than 50,000, as the strike continued into its twelfth day.

Ships Stranded

Over 100 ships loaded with foodstuffs were reported stranded with their cargoes at the docks. The complete walkout of dockworkers, tugmen and lightermen increased the likelihood the government may detail troops to unload the ships.

The dock strike was completed when workers at Tilbury joined the strike in sympathy with truckmen; who precipitated the employment of troops to distribute food.

The effects of the strike also reached serious proportions in Liverpool where porters refused to unload trucks driven to slaughterhouses by owners. The refusal of the porters is expected to deprive over a million people in the district of their full weekend ration of meat.

Meanwhile transport union leaders remained hopeful they can convince the striking truckers to return to work at a meeting with strike delegates today.

SHARON WORKERS RETURN

SHARON, Pa., Jan. 16.—(INS)—Members of the CIO-United Electrical Workers at the Westinghouse transformer works at Sharon returned to work today following a six-hour "sit down" strike yesterday.

The workers' struck in protest against job classifications given three employees. The strike was called off when union and management officials arranged a temporary agreement.

Two 'Governors' Continue Fight To Rule Georgia

Forces Of Gov. Talmadge Take Over Governor's Office During Night

LEGAL ACTION HAS DEVELOPED IN CASE

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(INS)—Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said today that the row over the Georgia governorship has not been called to the attention of the White House.

Ross told reporters, in answer to a question, that "the matter has not come to the attention of the White House."

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 16.

(INS)—Gov. Ellis Arnall, whose office was taken over during the night by forces of Gov. Herman Talmadge, clung dramatically to Georgia's governorship today by establishing his headquarters in the rotunda of the State Capitol.

Arnall, who was barred from his office by Talmadge aides, charged that Talmadge has inflicted a "military dictatorship" upon the people of Georgia.

Spurred by Talmadge when he sought to see him at 10:20 a. m., Arnall declared: "The military forces have laid siege to the governor's office which now is under control of the pretender, Herman Talmadge."

"I asked to see Mr. Talmadge. He refused. I stated he was afraid. They are afraid to wiggle unless they have a soldier—or a thug—at their back and call."

Talmadge occupied the private office this morning after a locksmiths opened the doors during the night.

The locksmiths apparently were operating under orders from Adjt. Gen. Marvin Griffin, whom Talmadge appointed yesterday.

President Has Conference With Congress Leaders

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(INS)—President Truman met with the new leaders of the Republican-controlled Congress for the first time today and held a broad, general discussion of issues before the legislators.

Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R) Mich., president of the Senate, said after the meeting in the President's office that the discussion concerned matters of an "unpartisan" nature.

Mr. Truman's first meeting with the new legislative "big six" lasted for 50 minutes.

Attending the conference in addition to Vandenberg were Senate Majority Leader White, House Speaker Martin, House Majority Leader Halleck, all Republicans, and House Minority Leader Rayburn and Senate Minority Leader Barkley.

Vandenberg acted as spokesman for the group when the conference broke up.

Fulton Lewis, Jr. Highly Regarded

Radio Reporter And Commentator Has Respect Of High Officials In Washington

Fulton Lewis, Jr., Mutual's ace reporter on national affairs, is highly regarded in official circles in Washington, and numerous government bureaucrats have reason to fear and respect him as a powerful influence on public opinion. Lewis, who will give his daily broadcast from New Castle Thursday evening, Jan. 23, and will also lecture in the Cathedral auditorium following his broadcast at a dinner meeting, has many local followers who will be anxious to see and hear him.

His appearance here has been made possible by the joint sponsorship of New Castle Rotary club and Station WKST, over which he broadcasts each evening.

His fearless exposes of bad situations in the national capital have often led to such prompt action that no one takes his criticisms lightly. In his case it has been no single scoop, no hyped interest in news which has held the daily attention of his listeners. They are held by his knowledge of the news and the men who make the news, by the fact that he centers his talks on national affairs which affect the daily lives of everyone.

This is attested to by some of the compliments he has received. Says the Buffalo Courier Express: "There's no commentator who knows more news than Fulton Lewis, Jr." The Washington Post: "Lewis looks carefully into both sides of the matter before hurling accusations. The amazing results of his one-man campaigns are a tribute to his unflinching energy and his sincerity in doing what he believes is right."

that of a teen-aged girl whose dark brown hair had been hennaed and whose toenails were painted bright red.

Had Been "Good Looking"
Police said she had been "good looking", with a pert, upturned nose, a high forehead and gray-green eyes.

There was little blood near the body. Police advanced the theory that the girl's sadistic killer had washed the body before dumping it in thick weeds in a vacant lot.

Capt. Jack Donohue of the homicide squad said police had one possible clue on which to help identify the victim—she chewed her fingernails.

The girl also had two operational scars on her body. Detectives said the young victim had been dead several hours when her body was discovered yesterday by an unidentified woman who telephoned police to report a "drunk" lying in the lot.

Numerous wounds on the body indicated that the killer had stabbed the girl repeatedly with a sharp knife.

Investigators described the serving of the body as a "clean job", performed with a sharp butcher knife or possibly with a small saw. There were no personal articles, such as jewelry or clothing, near the body.

day night, today took over complete charge of the governor's suite of offices.

In a dramatic move that took place before incumbent Ellis Arnall arrived at the state capitol, Talmadge's forces moved into the office occupied by Arnall yesterday.

The executive's private office is less than 20 yards from the larger reception room where Talmadge set up offices yesterday.

Talmadge issued the following statement immediately after taking over the entire suite:

"As governor of Georgia, I have taken complete charge of the executive offices at the state capitol. The functions of the governor's office are progressing in a firm and peaceful manner."

"No force or violence has been necessary to assume control of my office."

Anent Court Move
Referring to the court action taken late yesterday by Arnall and Attorney General Eugene Cook in which an injunction was sought to bar Talmadge from office, the 33-year-old son of the late Gov.-Elect Eugene Talmadge said:

"Former Governor Arnall and Attorney General Eugene Cook have instituted, according to the press, a suit against me, seeking a declaratory judgment."

"A canvass of the votes and election of a governor is a prerogative invested exclusively under the constitution of the state of Georgia in the general assembly of the state. Their action in such matters is not subject to review by the courts, since it would be encroachment by the judicial branch of government upon the legislative branch."

"I have made several appointments of department heads who have assumed control of their departments and they are functioning in accordance with the law."

"I am following the instructions of the legislature. It would be ridiculous to have two governors sitting in the capitol. There will be but one."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(INS)—The War department disclosed today that it is consulting with the Justice department to determine whether the Federal government should take any action against what nature, in connection with Georgia's two-governor controversy.

FORD ANNOUNCES PRICE REDUCTIONS

ited by material shortages but he asserted that employee productivity has returned to the prewar level.

Seeking Cooperation
Ford added that he is seeking the cooperation of the CIO-United Auto Workers to clear the way for possible further reductions.

The head of the vast Ford empire said the company made a modest profit in the last quarter of 1946, adding "and we intend to continue to operate in the black." (The company announced last October that it lost $51,000,000 in the first nine months of the year.)

"The Ford Motor company," he said, "proposes to accept its losses since V-J Day as an item of the cost of a great and victorious war. We have decided that now is the time for us to make an investment in the future."

Ford expressed the hope that suppliers, employees "and our other economic partners" will ask his attempt to turn the trend toward higher and higher prices. He pledged his company to the principle that higher wages and a higher standard of living for all depend upon lower costs and lower prices through increasingly efficient large-scale production.

He said further reductions may be possible if production is permitted to increase and if material and labor costs are held around present levels.

Current Ford output, he said, is more than 4,000 units a day and will be increased if more materials become available.

The reductions themselves are more significant than sensational. Prices on the most popular models—the eight-cylinder Ford super deluxe tudor and fordor—were cut only $15, and the sedan coupe by $25.

Fifty dollar reductions are in effect for the three six cylinder super deluxe models and $25 was lopped off the deluxe eight tudor.

sideration of Wagner act revisions concurrent with the sterner anti-closed shop and anti-industry wide bargaining bills mollified pro-labor members of the committee. Sen. Morse (R, Ore.), who was opposed to sidetracking a study of the Wagner act, said he was "satisfied" with the committee's approach.

For the time being, the judiciary group headed by Sen. Donnell (R, Mo.) had the hearing scheduled to itself. The committee's opening day witness, Sen. Caperhart (R, Ind.) said that a tax cut would have to be delayed until congress gives employers relief from the portal pay suits.

Start Testimony

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(INS)—

Industry spokesmen told Congress today that the Supreme Court's portal-to-portal pay decision will "destroy" law-abiding employers—and hit hardest those paying the highest wages to labor.

Industrial representatives who laid down a pattern of proposed legislation to nullify the portal pay suits testified before a Senate judiciary subcommittee.

The first witness was Thomas F. Patton, general counsel for Republic Steel Corp., Cleveland, O.

Patton said that the CIO-United Steelworkers have filed suit seeking a total of 90 million dollars in back portal-to-portal pay from Republic and a subsidiary, Truscon Steel Co.

He declared the net effect of the Supreme Court decision in the Mt. Clemens case is "to prevent the act from an instrument of righteous correction against sweatshop employers into an instrument to destroy the great majority of industrial employers in this country—employers who have attempted conscientiously to obey the mandates of the act."

Calvin Rose, pastor of Second U. P. church, New Castle, officiating. Interment will take place in Grace-land cemetery.

Mrs. Weaver, a resident of this community for 52 years, lived for a number of years in West Pittsburg previous to moving to Crawford avenue. She had been in failing health for two years, and after visiting for two months with her son, Percy B. Weaver, of Ellwood City, she was taken a month ago to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mildred Petterman, of Warren, O., where she died Wednesday.

Survivors include two sons, Carl P. Weaver, New Castle, and P. B. Weaver, Ellwood City; one daughter, Mrs. Mildred Petterman, Warren, O.; and six grandchildren.

McClamont Funeral
Funeral services for Willis McClamont were held in the McClamont funeral home, Harlansburg, Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. J. T. Leichter in charge.

Pallbearers were: Lynn Johnson, Randall Book, Lewis Hunt, Audley Locke, Earl Robinson and Joseph Burton.

Interment was in Harlansburg.

Mrs. Tanner Funeral
Funeral services for Mrs. Alice S. Tanner, widow of Charles W. Tanner, of 206 Liberty street, were conducted Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the R. L. Boyd funeral home with Rev. O. J. Warnam, S. T. M., pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, officiating.

William Lyons, Richard Barthelger, Alex. Wrobel, George Byers, James O'Rourke and Michael Clavelli served as pallbearers.

Interment took place in Grace-land cemetery.

Mrs. Majors Funeral Time
Funeral services for Mrs. Fannie Majors, of Detroit, Mich., are being conducted this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from Slippery Rock Presbyterian church with Rev. Charles Bell officiating. Rev. Joseph Pringle and Rev. Thomas Berger will assist in the services.

The body of Mrs. Majors, formerly of Ellwood City, who died as the result of a heart condition January 12, in Detroit was brought this morning at 6:55 o'clock to Ellwood City, where it was removed to the home of her brother-in-law, George Majors, of 645 First avenue.

Interment will take place in the church cemetery.

alarms calling six pieces of apparatus to the scene in addition to 15 paid firemen who were off duty and who responded on the second alarm from Box 25.

Other Damage
Smoke and water damage was done to other businesses located in the building but most of them were able to continue their normal operation of business today.

Because the building is located immediately adjoining the Fountain Inn hotel, apprehension was felt for its safety but firemen were successful in averting spread of the fire to any of the surrounding places.

Department was tagging cars found in alleys. That is all well and good, in fact an excellent idea. But did it ever occur to you to look out your front door some day and see all the double parking that is taking place on Mercer street? Why not start a campaign to get our Meter Checkers to stop this practice which has a far greater effect on traffic in New Castle downtown streets than all the alley parking in a year?

Mrs. J. F. Titus, Meyer avenue extension, called Pa Newc this morning to tell him about her Amartylis plant which is in bloom at her home. The plant, five inches in diameter, has three blooms which have been out for a week now. Normally, the plant does not bloom until much later.

TEMPLE ISRAEL
SABBATH SERVICES
Sabbath services at Temple Israel will be conducted Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Dr. Iwan Gruen, spiritual leader in charge. He will continue his series on the various types of Jewish people he met during his travels.

Dr. Gruen's topic will be, "Marranos on Mallorca."

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes
Flush Out Poisonous Waste
If you have an excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help the same as however, so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

GOOD TURNOUT FOR HOSPITAL SEWING

One of the largest attendances of volunteers ever to attend Wednesday morning sewings at Jameson Memorial hospital finished a lot of much needed surgical and sick room supplies for the hospital Wednesday.

Demand on the supplies made up by volunteer workers under the direction of the Jameson Memorial Hospital Aid society has been so heavy recently that stock piles of some articles have dwindled drastically and there will be weekly sewings to continue until deficiencies are overcome.

Mrs. Robert M. Garland is Jameson Hospital Aid society chairman. Members of the Welfare department of the Woman's club of which Mrs. Roy F. Conway is chairman, Mrs. Charles A. Gardner co-chairman, were in charge of Wednesday's sewing and will sew again on January 22.

Army-Navy Unification

The proposal for merging the Army and Navy under one department, with a single officer exerting complete command over all the armed forces, will again make its appearance in Congress. And the public, which has a very vital interest in anything concerning our military establishment, should realize that steps already taken have put into effect what is good in the unification plan—without putting into effect that which might prove dangerously bad.

The most important of these steps occurred recently, when the President approved a plan of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, whereby a single commander is given complete operational responsibility in each theater where there are American forces. Clearly delineated areas of command have been laid down. As an example, General MacArthur has complete command authority over all Army, Navy and other military facilities, personnel and establishments in the Far East. Other generals and admirals exert similar authority in their designated spheres.

This in itself makes impossible the division of responsibility which had so much to do with the Pearl Harbor disaster. One man, not two or three, commands, and his duties are fixed and clear. At the same time, the spirit of competition, of pride in branch of service, which means so much to any fighting force, is maintained.

A complete merging of the services would harm that spirit. It would reflect adversely on that vitally important intangible—morale. Morale is one of the chief strengths of a defense force in time of peace—or a striking force in time of war.

In Case Of Fire

It is evident that the terrible death toll in the recent hotel fires makes revision of many municipal building codes mandatory. Structural changes must be effected to prevent the spread of fire from floor to floor and through area-ways. In the meantime, the National Board of Fire Underwriters repeats a set of fire safety rules for hotel guests which would have saved scores of lives in Chicago, Atlanta and elsewhere had they been followed. Here they are:

1. Upon reaching your room, locate all means of emergency exit.
2. Do not smoke in bed—this is one of the most prolific causes of fire.
3. If you detect smoke or any evidence of fire, immediately inform the desk.
4. Close your transom, and plan what you will do if fire strikes.
5. In the event of fire, do not open your door if it feels hot to the touch. If it is not hot, open it slightly, bracing it with your foot. Then, if the hallway is safe, use the planned exit.
6. If the hallway is not safe, keep the door closed, and stop up openings and cracks with wet towels, sheets, blankets, mattresses, etc.
7. Open the window slightly and remain near it. Don't get hysterical. The fire department will rescue you—wait for it.

The essence of this procedure is to avoid the creation of drafts that fan fire. People who followed similar techniques in the hotel fires lived—while people in adjoining rooms who let panic rule them died. Remember these rules. There is a very real possibility that someday they will save your life.

Benjamin Franklin

Perhaps there could be no more significant tribute to the fame of Benjamin Franklin than the circumstance that in this year, 157 years after his death, his birthday is being celebrated throughout the country. He was born January 17, 1706.

Franklin has been described as the most versatile man that the country has produced. Printers have a claim to him, for he was a superior printer. Newspapersmen believe that his great service as a patriot really sprang from an experience, when he was fifteen, with tyranny. In that year, his brother, James, printer and editor of a newspaper, the New England Courant, was jailed for a month by the speaker of the Massachusetts Assembly for "a too liberal exercise of his critical faculties." Benjamin deeply resented this restraint on freedom of discussion. He became a crusading champion for all kinds of liberty.

His story is familiar to the American people. His discoveries in science were quickly acclaimed—especially in England—as among the most important of all time. His writing revealed an imposing literary stature. His contribution to the diffusion of learning was in itself enough to secure for him a lasting place in history.

But the country will ever honor him above all else for his success in persuading France to come into the war for liberation on the side of the colonies. Without France, the colonies might have won their freedom; with France, they were sure to win. Franklin did that—at the age of 71. He will stand always among the greatest Americans.

Later discoveries indicate the earth is twenty times older than first believed. It doesn't act its age.

A new shade of blue has been developed by British scientists—as if there wasn't enough already.

Whither are we drifting? Some government experts say inflation is continuing, and others contend deflation has started.

Movement is under way to lighten work on the farm, but no one has suggested time and a half after forty hours.

Regular Republicans And Liberals Clash

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The first brush in the Senate, between the solid phalanx of regular Republicans and the minority of liberal Republicans came out exactly as expected. The liberals sounded off with some stirring talk, and the regular Republicans went right on with their business as it had been first planned and laid out.

But this does not mean that the liberals within the Republican majority can be blithely ignored during the present session. They are highly articulate. They are quite indifferent to the frowns of the leadership. And they intend to make themselves heard on every possible occasion.

The test came over continuation of the Senate's special defense investigating committee. The Republican committee on policy, under the efficient chairmanship of Sen. Robert A. Taft, has decided to grant this committee an additional year of existence.

Reason for Decision
The reason for this decision was simple. It lay in the stout, determined figure of Maine's Sen. Owen Brewster. If the committee was given a new lease on life, Brewster would be its chairman. That opened a vista which Brewster found irresistible. After all, hadn't one man, Harry S. Truman, moved from the chairmanship of that committee to the presidency?

But there were also good reasons to let Brewster have his way. He had been talking about an investigation of the American occupation of Germany. An investigation could upset the apple cart of our policy in Europe, as responsible men such as Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg very well knew.

Moreover, a sensationalized investigation in Germany would encroach on the field of the Senate's armed forces committee. One of the reasons for the La Follette-Monroe congressional reorganization bill was to prevent such overlapping.

Finally a compromise was worked out that was intended to placate all concerned. The defense investigating committee, with its promise of sensational headlines, was to be continued, and that would mean Brewster happy. But in return he would have to promise to keep out of Germany and off the toes of the armed forces committee.

Compromise Not Announced
The nature of this compromise was not, of course, announced to the Senate. But it was well known to the Republican rebels. Against that background, they denounced the plan to continue the special committee.

Sen. Charles W. Topeky of New Hampshire led off in his forthright New England fashion. He reviewed the objectives of the reorganization act, pointing out the confusion and uncertainty caused in the past by overlapping committees. The continuation of a special committee at the very start of the new session would, he argued, weaken the whole purpose of the reorganization.

"Once we start on this reverse trend," Topeky said, "we not only promote confusion, waste and inefficiency, but also provide the occasions for log-rolling and backscratching, and deals in which great prizes of new committee chairmanships and the authorization of new staffs and great power are involved."

In other words, the direction would be backward to the old days of jobbery and personal privilege that La Follette-Monroe bill was intended, in part at least, to cure.

Action Deferred
Taft defended the action of the leadership. He denied that continuation of the defense committee was a violation of the intention of congressional reorganization.

Then Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon took the floor. As a member of the armed forces committee, he had, of course, sat in on the session at which the compromise with Brewster was agreed to. Making eight points, Morse showed pretty conclusively that the plan was not for a special committee. To make his position consistent, he withdrew a request he had previously put before the Senate for a special committee to investigate army and navy court-martials. Instead Morse recommended that this investigation be carried out by members of the new armed forces committee.

No one had any illusions, while the debate went on, that the position of the Republican leadership would be altered. The leaders know where they want to go. They are on the way to ultimate victory in 1948.

Nevertheless, the rebels will be heard from again and again. They may not be able to change any votes in the Senate. It is just possible, however, that they may chance some votes out in the country and that is where the leadership is likely to be more and more short-term-tempered with these rebellious Republicans.

GOAT FEVER

Undulant fever is known by many names. It is called Bang's disease, Brucellosis, Malta fever, goat fever, and other names.

One of the first to be discovered, it causes trouble for cattle, goats and pigs. Then people get the disease from the animals.

In our State, cows are very carefully inspected for Bang's disease. If milk is pasteurized it may be used without any danger of getting undulant fever from it.

It seems that these germs are watching for us all the time. Only by keeping wide awake and on the job all the time can we protect ourselves from this disease.

Good clean milk is our best food. Everybody should have some every day.

Do you ever get the blues?

If you are a normal human being you do, and you wish there were a quick way to shake them off.

Well, there is. Somehow, my day for the blues is usually Sunday.

The reason is probably that there is more time to think on Sunday than on weekdays when you are busy with your daily chores; and when you have time to think nowadays, particularly after reading all the bad news on the front pages, you are bound to look at life with a considerable amount of disgust and doubt.

And so you get the blues.

Well, I have found a pretty good way of getting rid of the blues. I am going to tell you how—it may help you.

I take out my old Bible and find that the same troubles that beset us now were in existence thousands of years ago, but that, in that Bible, there is a solution for every one of those troubles and an answer to almost every human problem.

But, please get me right. I look to my Bible not from any denominational or ecclesiastical point of view, but as a book of greater and simpler and truer common sense than any hundred other books ever written.

I suggest that you do this: For a few cents you can buy a Concordance to the Bible, concordance meaning index.

Big Denunciation Act Being Framed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. AS the time for action on labor legislation approaches, the professional labor bosses, with their political and journalistic aides, are getting themselves all set for what promises to be the biggest denunciation act staged in this country for a good many years.

AN indication of its character came the other day from Senator James Murray, of Montana, who, now that Mr. Guffey has been retired, appears to be the CIO's outstanding senatorial mouthpiece. Fresh from a dinner with CIO heads and several of his colleagues, including the strongly pro-Russian Senator Pepper, of Florida, Mr. Murray let go a couple of blasts in which he portentously warned against going to "excesses." Others, harping on the same note, denounced the forthcoming new laws, even before they have taken shape, as "compulsory," "punitive" and "drastic." And there was sounded again the silly prediction that any "extreme measures" will cause the CIO unions to go Communist.

THIS is just the beginning. By the time hearings on these bills are held, the act will have reached its climax and a frightful clamor will arise to impress the unthinking labor boss "crucified" that it is being deprived of its "hard-won rights"; that it has been "stabbed in the back"; that there is a "monstrous conspiracy" to "destroy the unions"; that what is proposed is not only "compulsory," "punitive" and "drastic" but "un-American." A very costly and efficient publicity machine will be devoted to this denunciations campaign. There will be little or no argument; it will be almost altogether a defense by denunciation, an effort to convince by noise.

OF course, the whole business is so transparent that it is difficult to see how any intelligent person can take it seriously or how any sincere man can participate in it. Obviously inspired by the labor bosses, whose primary interest is to hold on to their power and keep their jobs, and supported by men in public or political life who for one reason or another have contracted labor political alliances, it is not likely this big denunciation act will deceive many people—certainly none sufficiently informed to know the truth.

FOR it seems perfectly clear that any legislation not violently opposed by the labor politicians, in and out of the unions, will not meet the urgent needs of the day. For example, as Mr. Donald Richberg recently pointed out, it will take a "compulsory" law to compel the labor bosses to stop attempting, at regular intervals, to freeze or starve the people of the United States into submitting to their arbitrary demands. It will take a "drastic" law to end the power of a few thousand transportation workers to shut down the health of a great city, in the way the tugboat men and teamsters paralyzed New York. And it will take a "punitive" law to make it impossible again for a conspiracy of public utility employees to wage a civil war for private gain in cities like Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Washington, by cutting off electric power and light, or local transportation or telephone service which are essential to the public welfare and safety.

CERTAINLY, it will take "compulsory," "punitive" and "drastic" laws to prevent and punish all the outrageous uses of organized private force by which labor unions have made local, state and Federal governments impotent to preserve law and order, to protect the people from needless and intolerable injury or even to carry on the normal and necessary operations of the Government itself. If "compulsory," "punitive" and "drastic" laws are necessary to achieve these objectives, then that is what the people want—and that is what they voted for on November 5. There is extremely little doubt about that in the minds of a majority of Congress and very little question that despite the big denunciation act the majority will pass a bill that adequately meets public sentiment on this vital issue. The fact is that the big denunciation act, in all probability, will demonstrate again the essential weakness of these labor professionalists and their supporting groups.

LAST year, in both the primaries and general election, they sustained a series of crushing defeats which showed their claims to great voting strength in the nation to be without foundation. After the threats in which the CIO and its PAC had indulged, the proof of its impotence was amazing. They made an awful lot of noise but they had very few votes. It seems likely a similar experience awaits the labor bosses in this session of Congress. They will put on their act, but an adequate bill as finally decided upon by the Republican leadership will probably be passed by a very large vote. Not only will most of the Republicans vote for it but a very considerable number of Democrats of the Senator Byrd type. Nor is there much chance of a presidential veto. It will seem "compulsory," "punitive" and "drastic" to the labor bosses—and that is the professional liberals—but hardly to the country.

Views Of The News

By J. C. OESTREICHER
(I. N. S. Foreign Editor)

Austria's request that she be permitted to sit in with the Big Four deputies in their deliberations on an Austrian peace treaty today re-emphasized world hopes that vengeance as such is to be expunged from the dictionary of international peace.

Some opposition to the proposal may be expected from Soviet Russia.

For the Russians have been less eager to "let bygones be bygones," as witness the tornado of Soviet criticism over the three acquittals at Nuremberg last November.

Yet Moscow has not reacted with any visible resentment to the virtual hero's welcome accorded to Premier Alcide De Gasperi of Italy in New York when he came to obtain funds and sympathy for his war-stricken nation.

This was not necessarily due to the fact that De Gasperi served time in Benito Mussolini's jails and concentration camps. The Russians have been inclined to take the stony view that individuals as well as Fuehrers and Duces had hands in the making of a war against the world.

The Austrian bid for a voice in her future fate has many and varied ramifications, it can be expected that the deputies, and later on the Big Four themselves, will not overlook any of them.

First of all, of course, is the simple, undisguisable fact that Adolf Hitler was himself an Austrian.

The state's constitution fails to provide a method of succession to a governor-elect who expires before taking office.

And it was under that condition that Arnall declined to abandon his office until he could turn the reins of state over to the new lieutenant governor, M. E. Thompson.

In a preliminary victory on the floor of the assembly yesterday, the Talmadges blocked Thompson's chances of becoming chief executive in that manner.

They forced through a resolution that the lawmakers first would settle the governorship question before formally recognizing the election of the lieutenant-governor or any other officials voted into office last November.

Arnall remained closeted with advisors long after the crowd had been dispersed. He issued no statement, however, and appeared firmly resolved to retain the governorship as he had vowed to do from the outset unless he could turn the office over to Thompson.

Had Presented Resignation
Arnall already had presented his resignation to the secretary of state, but the date of its effectiveness was not set forth.

Talmadge was sworn in shortly after 3 a. m. and by 2:06 he had made his inaugural address to the joint legislative session.

He announced that his first hope and objective is that the solons will restore Georgia's "White Democratic primary," which, in effect, would bar the Negro from voting.

Second is the historic truth that Austria was undermined and led into unholy union with Nazism by a small but powerful "Pan-German" minority. Experts say that not more than 10 or 15 percent of the Austrian population could be called "pure Germans"—even condoning the fallacy that there is such a thing as unadulterated German blood anyway.

Third—and most important—is that statesmen of the modern world appear to be much fascinated that those of the first World War. The treaty of Versailles made of Austria a head without a body. The situation is much the same today, with Vienna virtually cut off from her rich hinterland by zonal restrictions.

But British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, in welcoming the Big Four deputies at their opening session in London, said that all nations acknowledge necessity for revival of Austria as economic and political pivot of the Danubian, to become the meeting-place between east and west.

In President Dr. Karl Renner and youthful Foreign Minister Karl Gruber the Austrians have two excellent spokesmen. Both are "real Austrians"—representatives of the charming, cultured, peace-loving mixture of bloods that is true Austria.

They are not of the aggressive German border stock whose "islands" of nationalism have throughout central Europe spilled over so much blood and trouble in years that have passed.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

MID-YEAR TUTORING PROBLEM

In some school systems there are mid-year promotion and graduation. In others there is a checkup on the school progress of the pupil or student. There certainly is at college. In some cases, a little special effort during the next few weeks may mean the saving of a half-year, otherwise lost or continuing in school or college instead of quitting further learning from books. Some skillful parents will be able to inspire such effort. Special assistance by a tutor might help push the child or youth "over the line."

There is danger, of course, that the panicky student facing peril of failure, may attempt the impossible and that his parents may expect such of him. Then, in their final disappointment, these parents may abuse the child with tongue-lashings which are always bad. Before attempting any last-minute pressure, the parents would be wiser to let matters take their course till the end of the semester and then map out a promising program for the next term.

The College Youth
If it is the college youth who has failed at mid-term, he probably will be barred from returning to college. Since most colleges are now overcrowded, students making unsatisfactory scholastic progress will be readily dropped to make room for waiting students who are more promising. Nor will it be easy for the dropped student to gain admittance soon to another college.

About the only wise thing for him to do is to get a job and go to work. Those who have really studied hard at college may choose to re-enter college later. Even a few of the loafers, after working a year or so, might make up their minds to return to college and get down to business. For the serious student who would like to improve his methods of study so as to get better (Continued on Page Seven)

Must Be Prepared To Mobilize Army Of 5,500,000 Men

Information Director Says That Total Needed To Repel Any Surprise Attack

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 16.—(INS)—Lieut. Gen. J. Lawton Collins, war department information director, said today that the United States must be prepared to mobilize five and a half million men to guard against danger of surprise attack.

Brig. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau, chief of the manpower control group, army personnel division, said that to meet the requirements stressed by Collins a system of universal military training is necessary.

Both generals spoke before the Association of College Presidents. Trudeau asserted further that to retain the one million, 70 thousand-man level to which the army is committed for July 1 "the war department may have to seek extension of selective service beyond the present March, 1947, deadline."

In Washington, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, army chief of staff, led his staff in examining the complete manpower picture preparatory to making a report to Congress on personnel needs.

Collins asserted: "The United States will be the first target in another war . . . to guard against this danger of surprise attack the U. S. must be prepared to mobilize immediately five and one-half million men with sufficient training to man an initial force of 56 divisions and 131 air groups."

"This should be expandable by further mobilization to eight million men comprising 74 divisions and 180 air groups—somewhat smaller than the V-E day strength of the army."

Collins maintained that an understanding of military requirements must take into consideration the capabilities of other large nations rather than their probable courses of action.

Naval Academy Head Is Changed

Rear Admiral James L. Holloway
Becomes Superintendent Of
U. S. Naval Academy

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 15.—(INS)—Jr. Wednesday succeeded Vice Admiral Aubrey W. Pitch as superintendent of the United States Naval academy.

Impressive ceremonies marked the change in command as the brigade of midshipmen and the marine guard paraded before a throng which included high-ranking officers of the armed forces and Washington notables.

Admiral Pitch declared in his farewell address that the Navy must be a "strong and potent force for peace". He added:

"During the 17 months since V-J Day the world has settled down to the business of winning a peace."

"This period has been necessarily one of unrest and change."

"We have seen the establishment of the United Nations—a driving force with the hopes and aspirations of all the peoples and nations of the world focused on it."

The admiral reminded the midshipmen of their obligations to the traditions of the naval academy and the service.

He observed that the Navy spirit of teamwork was exemplified in the West Point-Annapolis football game last November 30 when the Middies came within seconds of defeating an overwhelmingly favored Army team.

Prize $20,000 Bull Is Given Penicillin

FREEPORT, Ill., Jan. 16.—(INS)—Inka, a prize $20,000 bull, was receiving penicillin treatment Wednesday for a liver treatment, after three veterinarians diagnosed his miseries.

Their first investigation showed a piece of metal in Inka's stomach which was not a sufficient explanation for the bull dropping from 2,000 pounds to 1,600 in the past 10 days.

After the veterinarians sounded all of Inka's four stomachs they discovered the animal had an infected liver.

The bull, owned by the W. T. Rawleigh Co. experimentation farm, receives the penicillin in its food every 72 hours.

Blum To Resign As France Elects New President

By LEON PEARSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
PARIS, Jan. 16.—Sources close to Premier Leon Blum confirmed that the veteran Socialist leader definitely has committed himself to resign upon the election of the new president of the French Republic.

Intimate friends of Blum revealed he pledged his intention to step aside entirely after the election to Maurice Thorez, Communist party head.

Blum conferred with the Communist leader Sunday before he departed for London and gave definite assurance he would step down from the premiership. He was called to the post when the Socialists were asked to form a one-party interim government.

Blum based his decision on two points. He contended first that it would be unparliamentary to continue a minority party rule and second, that he is unwilling to preside over the conflicts inherent in coalition rule.

He is expected to cite both points in a letter of resignation he will submit after tomorrow's election.

Slackening of Communist attacks on the Socialist government in the last few days are being interpreted as the result of Blum's conference with Thorez.

The newspaper France Soir however speculated that the aged Socialist will be asked to remain as premier because of "the masterly manner in which he has conducted public affairs—both domestic and foreign—in the past month."

Would Hold Farm Show In October Instead Of January

HARRISBURG, Jan. 16.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Jersey Cattle Club today advocated the state farm show be held in October in the future instead of January.

Members appointed a committee to present their recommendation to other farm organizations and the state farm show commission. A resolution adopted during the annual convention in conjunction with the 31st farm show called for "a more favorable" milk price differential based on butterfat content. A margin of 10 cents was in effect in the Cleveland area, it was pointed out, compared with the five-cent rate observed in Pennsylvania.

Roy N. Moose, of Mercer, was re-elected president while Mrs. Robert E. Shriver, of Petrolia, was chosen secretary for another term. Other officers elected for initial terms were Vice-President Samuel Williams, of Middletown, and Treasurer Clyde O. Vosbaugh, of Titusville.

Two Resignations In City Schools

Report Of Health Conditions In Schools Presented; Mumps Are Prevalent

Two resignations were received and accepted by the New Castle school board Wednesday night at the monthly business meeting. Miss Katherine J. Lierent of the Oak street school resigned because of marriage and Miss Tillie Solomon of Highland avenue school, resigned due to removal from the city.

A report of Dr. J. E. Ginsberg, school medical inspector, shows considerable mumps in the school system at the present time. A total of 47 cases of mumps were reported, out of a total of 62 quarantinable diseases. Chicken pox accounted for 11, whooping cough 3, and measles 1.

The board approved a list of incidental bills totalling $15,107.57.

Strike Clamps Philadelphia's Produce Center

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—(INS)—Philadelphia's Dock Street, the city's door through which all produce must pass, was closed down today in the latest development of a move to organize clerical workers into an AFL teamsters union.

The decision to close followed a meeting last night between the 200 jobbers and 57 carlot receivers at the market. The labor battle started 14 days ago when 200 girl clerical employees of the various Dock Street firms walked off their jobs in a one-day protest against the union efforts to organize them.

Raymond Daniels, president of the AFL Local 929, Fruit, Produce, Poultry and Oystermen's drivers and helpers, the union involved, denounced today's shutdown as a lockout.

FEUDING SISTERS WILL BE CALLED IN EVICTION CASE

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 16.—(INS)—The case of the feuding sisters, with one trying to evict the other, will go before presiding District Judge John R. Mears tomorrow.

The sisters, Mrs. Rosalie Alexander, 30, and Mrs. Juanita Shaw, 32, live next door to each other.

Mrs. Shaw and her husband, Charles, ask eviction of Mrs. Alexander and her children from one side of a duplex apartment owned by the Shaws.

The Shaws accuse Mrs. Alexander of non-payment of rent, damaging the duplex, breaking some of the Shaw's windows and displaying an uncontrolled temper.

Mrs. Alexander denied the charges. She said she has done many things for her sister and has nowhere to go.

FORMALLY EXCITED FLIES
DETROIT, Jan. 16.—Seven common house flies were executed formally in Detroit and seemed to like it, at the start.

The flies—there were 10 of them but three got away—were flown in from Chicago, and spent the night in a downtown hotel. After a last breakfast of warm milk they were ready for the death chamber—a little paint-coated box.

The paint was impregnated with DDT and this was its official test. It worked. For nearly 30 minutes the flies frisked about, but at the end of an hour they were flat on their backs, feebly kicking their legs.

The new paint is designed primarily for creamery and dairy barn use.

RETURNING CONDOLENCE CALLS

Question: My mother died recently and now that I have returned to my home in another town, my friends are calling to express their sympathy. Is it necessary that I return these calls?

Answer: No. Calls of condolence need not be returned. Written messages of sympathy must be acknowledged, of course.

Question: When a man walks along the street with two women, on which side should he be? Answer: On the outside. He should not walk between them.

Question: At a tea, should the napkin be spread out entirely on the lap or only partially opened? Answer: A small tea napkin may be entirely opened; a dinner napkin partially opened.

Question: My daughter will have a private wedding ceremony in the rectory, at which only the immediate family will be present. But we wish to have a reception later. How should we word our invitations? Answer: This is the form for an invitation to the reception only: Mr. and Mrs. John Smith request the pleasure of (write the guest's name in ink) company on Wednesday the eighth of January at (address where it will take place) R. s. v. p. Question: When a woman leaves a man to whom she has just been introduced, should she say to him "I am very pleased to have met you," or should he say it? Answer: Let him say it for a woman never meets a man. He meets her.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Jan. 16.—It takes all kinds of people in the underworld, too.

The term "forecast" was first used in reference to the prediction of weather by Adm. Robert Fitz-Roy of England at the time the Meteorological Department began the general issue of weather predictions in August, 1861.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

ter results from his efforts, my "Tips for Students" may be had in a stamped envelope.

Some Special Help

Some children and youths lagging at school or college, should have some special help. They may profit from the aid of a psychologist. If there is no school psychologist, the services of a competent psychologist may be had at the nearest college or university.

For some school laggards a tutor may be very desirable. No matter how smart parents may be, unless they can be calm and patient, they hardly can be good helpers of their own child at his lessons. Parents of children in the grades or high school, whose children now are barely passing or are likely to fail at mid-term, should be thinking through a plan for helping these children get on better at school next term. For some of these children it may be chiefly a matter of control. If the parents still have control, they should require the child old enough to have homework to be home on practically all nights preceding school and to go at his homework at a regular place and time. By all means, if your child lags at school, confer with his teacher or teachers and try to ascertain just what the specific learning difficulties are and what the school considers may be done to overcome these difficulties.

Attack Use Of Word 'Fire-Proof'

National Conference On Hotel Fire Safety Condemns Terms As "Misleading"

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—(INS)—Use of the word "fire-proof" in describing buildings was attacked today at the national conference on hotel fire safety in Philadelphia.

Several speakers condemned the word as "misleading" at the one-day meeting sponsored by the National Fire Protection association.

James K. McElroy, NFPA engineer who examined the ruins of three recent hotel fires, declared:

"The loss of 119 lives in the Hotel Wincoff fire in Atlanta December 7 is essentially the effect of overconfidence in a type of structure for a great many years commonly and erroneously described as 'fire-proof'."

"The loss of 61 lives in the Hotel La Salle fire last June in Chicago was the tip-off that a re-examination of previously accepted practices and activities in the hotel field and the fire and casualty insurance industry is imperative if the future safety of hotel guests and employees is to be assured."

Fire Safety Not Expensive
"Fire safety is not expensive," said McElroy. "Owners and managers desirous of improving the safety of hotels were well advised to consider the adequacy of their exits facilities and the presence of unprotected stairway and elevator openings."

The fire engineer continued: "The employment of able watchmen, sufficient in number to assure patrols of not less than 20-minute intervals would have prevented the delay in discovery of the Atlanta tragedy."

"In this fire," McElroy asserted, "a single $50 door installation at the entrance to the stairway from the third floor would have prevented (it closed) the spread of fire to the upper floors."

McElroy charged that properly maintained automatic sprinkler protection for the corridors alone would have not only detected but extinguished the fire at its beginning.

Robert S. Moulton, secretary of the NFPA's safety to life committee, called for the outlawing of the word "fire-proof," asserting:

"A 'fire-proof' building by definition is one where the structure will remain intact after a burnout of its contents. A stove is an excellent example of 'fire-proof construction'."

Technical Points In Social Security Law Amendments Explained

Recent changes in the Social Security Act make it easier for wives, step-children, and adopted children to qualify for old-age and survivors insurance benefits. Edward J. Sinder, manager of the New Castle Social Security office stated that these amendments to the law became effective January 1, 1947.

Under the revised law, Mr. Sinder explained, a wife may qualify for benefits at or after age 65 as soon as she has been married three years. Under the old law if the marriage took place after the husband was 60, the wife could never qualify for wife's insurance benefits. A wife, of course, cannot receive benefits unless her husband is over 65 and is drawing benefits.

Cites Example

Mr. Sinder gave the following example:

Mr. and Mrs. Smith were married in 1941. At that time Mrs. Smith was 61 and Mr. Smith 62. In January 1946 Mr. Smith retired and qualified for old-age insurance benefits of $38.00 per month. Although Mrs. Smith was then over 65 she could not qualify since she had married Mr. Smith after he was 60. Under the new law Mrs. Smith will now be able to qualify for a wife's insurance benefit of $19.00 per month since she has been married for over three years.

A similar provision in the new law affects benefits to step-children and adopted children of retired workers. Under the old-age and survivors insurance program children, step-children, and adopted children under 18 may qualify for benefits on retirement of the father after age 65. Under the old law, however, step-children and adopted children could not qualify if the relationship had been created after the worker became 60.

Provide For Children

The new law changes this provision so that the children can qualify as soon as the relationship has existed three years. By way of illustration Mr. Sinder cited the following example:

In 1943 at the age of 63, Mr. Jones married a young widow who had two young children ages three and five. In August 1945 Mr. Jones was retired and he qualified for old-age insurance benefits of $33.00 a month. However, since the children became his stepchildren after he was 60, they could not qualify for benefits. Now under the new law each child will be eligible for a benefit of $16.50 per month since they have been Mr. Jones' stepchildren for over three years.

Mr. Sinder pointed out that in the event of the death of the wage earner a widow and minor step-children or adopted children may be eligible for monthly benefits if the relationship had existed for twelve full calendar months prior to the death of the worker.

There are undoubtedly a number of persons in this area who are affected by these changes in the Social Security Act. Benefits cannot be paid to them until an application has been filed with the Social Security office. Mr. Sinder urges everyone who believes that he or she may be affected to communicate with his office immediately. The Social Security office is located at 306 Neshannock avenue, New Castle, Pa.

Smash Mirrors In Interest Of Science

TOLEDO, O.—(INS)—Small boys with a penchant for window breaking may well envy scientists here who deliberately smash $30,000 worth of glass and mirrors annually with complete immunity—and no seven years of bad luck.

The scientists smash up, bathe in acids, bake, each, freeze, coat with chemicals and bombard with electrons that amount of glass during a year in the laboratories of Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co. here, according to Dr. George B. Watkins, director of research for the company—but it's all for a good purpose.

"In the last decade, more than $500 per worker has been spent for research in bringing out new glass products, improving the techniques of glassmaking and advancing general technology," he said, "and many of these developments have resulted directly from tests in breaking glass or treating it in various ways."

FAMILY HAS TO CHECK IN

MT. VERNON, Ill.—School does not start in the mornings at nearby Drivers until the Bodine family arrives. The four children of the family, ranging from seven to 14 years, are the entire student body of the one-room schoolhouse.

If you wipe spots off the floor as they appear, it will not be necessary to wash the entire floor so often.

DOTES ON NO. 13

CHICAGO—Al G. Kumskis says he dotes on the number 13. Yesterday, Kumskis, an independent candidate for alderman—the 13th Ward—appeared at the election commissioner's office. He was accompanied by a committee of 13 persons who filed his petition of candidacy with more than 5000 signatures.

Finals in the election are April 1. Try The News Want Ads For Results

After careful planning of meals, you must follow through with proper cooking to retain essential vitamins and minerals in the food. Electric cooking is Health cooking! It requires a minimum of water to cook on surface units, because its low heat is so accurately controlled and uniform that you don't need the extra water to prevent burning. You don't boil out food values. Foods cook in their natural juices with just enough water to generate the needed steam. They not only are more healthful but have a real full-flavored taste—keep vitamins in your food . . . Switch to ELECTRIC COOKING.

Plan To Fly Giant B-29 Drone Alaska To Florida

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(INS)—The Army air forces plans to fly a giant B-29 drone from Alaska to Florida.

This was revealed today by sources close to the project as a B-17 drone grounded by adverse weather in Washington prepared to take off by remote control from a "mother" bomber for Elsin Field, Fla.

The planned remote control flight of the Superfortress will be the first time that the B-29 has been used as a drone. The operation was called "Banshee" by a spokesman.

He said that equipment for converting the B-29 to a drone is expected at Wright Field, Dayton, O., about May 1.

The officer added, however, that plans are in such early stages that information regarding bases in Alaska and Florida for the mission and the exact time it can be expected to start is not available yet.

Use of the B-29 as a pilotless plane remotely controlled by a "mother" B-29, emphasizes advances made in development of superior bombers.

The World War II Superfortress has been dwarfed by the B-36 and B-55, both designed for ranges of 10,000 miles.

The B-29 is obsolete besides these two bombers which are believed capable of carrying out a round-trip atomic bombing mission to any inhabited region on earth.

Experiments with conventional bombers as drones are aimed at permitting attacking aircraft to make close approach to enemy targets without endangering the lives of crews.

Crime Increasing For Several Years In New York City

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The number of crimes committed in this metropolis has been increasing for several years.

"Weekly crime statistics fluctuate," Police Commissioner Arthur Wallender said, "but the steady trend is upward."

In 1944 the number of crimes committed was 104 percent more than in 1943. In 1945 the increase was 11.9 percent over 1944. During the first half of 1946 there was a rise of 12.8 percent over the corresponding period in 1945.

And in 1946, the increase in New York's crimes is 2 percent less than the national average.

The figures also show that crimes committed by youths are increasing. Of 6174 crimes listed in 1945, 35 percent were committed by persons under 20. Of 285 murders or manslaughter, 24.2 percent were by youths under 20, and 22 percent by persons under 16.

Two Magill Brothers In Business Here 62 Years

Sixty-two years in the same business and in the same location and still going strong is the enviable record of two brothers, M. L. and Robert Magill who have been dispensing groceries during that period at their store 267 West Grant street to four generations of New Castle residents.

Chatting with M. L. Magill a reporter learned that he began to wait on customers at the age of seven, while his brother Bob began in long about the same time, back in those days when oil and gas lights were the only means of illumination for their store.

Carload Of Flour A Month

"When I took over the store at the age of 20," M. L. told a reporter, "we were the only store between East Washington street and the county line on the west. Why it was nothing to get in a car load of flour every month and in just a few days time have every jar sold. Of course you could buy a 49 pound sack of flour back in those days for the sum of 65 cents. Every one baked their own bread."

The Magill store in those early days dispensed everything from shoestrings to wearing apparel. Drugs were one of the main items of business. Very few commodities were put in cans, it was discovered with fresh vegetables lining the store shelves.

Washboards 25 Cents Each

Imagine buying bacon for eight cents a pound and ham at the same price. Lard was sold for five cents a pound, while you could get three dozen of eggs for a quarter. The best broom or washboard in the store sold for twenty-five cents also.

"In the early nineties we carried sixty to 80 different kinds of plug tobacco, while today, we carry none at all," M. L. Magill continued.

Serve Fourth Generation

It was interesting to learn that one day a few years ago, there were three people in the store at the same moment that began buying from the Magills 50 years ago from that day. The two brothers are now serving the fourth generation of customers that originally began buying their commodities at the store. For years, up until the advent of the automobile all the groceries and other items from the store were delivered by horse and drag wagon.

At one time, when the mills used to issue checks on certain large department stores in the city, no cash was used in the grocery transactions but the store issued a credit check in exchange when purchases were made. Farmers used to come in with their goods and exchange what they had for staple commodities.

M. L. Magill plans to keep on in the business as long as he is able and from all outward appearance he will be working for a good while to come. Russell Magill, Bob's son is fulfilling the old axiom, like father, like son and is going to make the grocery business his life's work.

PATROL RUSSIAN FORESTS

LONDON, Jan. 16.—Russia's vast forests of 292 million acres—equal to one-third of Europe—will be patrolled next year by the growing air fire-fighting service, reports Tass.

The young organization last year discovered and quenched 2000 forest fires.

Long Over Water Jet Plane Flight Made In Pacific

TOKYO, Jan. 16.—(INS)—Successful completion of the first long overwater jet plane flight in the Pacific was announced by the Far Eastern air forces in Tokyo.

The 700-mile flight from northern Luzon to Okinawa was made Tuesday by four P-80 Shooting Stars in one hour and 40 minutes.

The average speed of the space-consuming jets was 430 miles per hour.

The Thirteenth air force Shooting Stars were under command of Maj. Gen. E. L. Eubank. Lieut. Gen. Ennis Whitehead, commander of the FEAF, radioed him the following congratulatory message:

"Your flight over the open sea demonstrates that our combat crews and aircraft are conquering new horizons in the development of air power. Pilots and mechanics of the aircraft are to be congratulated."

Tennessee, the Volunteer state, was a territory of the U. S. from 1790-1796, when it was admitted to the Union as the 16th state.

Warns Against Wildcat Portal Pay Suits Filing

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 15.—(INS)—Regional Director Anthony J. Federoff today warned CIO local unions in the Pittsburgh district against filing "wildcat" portal-to-portal pay suits.

Federoff declared that "wildcat suits have been filed by individuals and enterprising attorneys" in increasing numbers, adding:

"It has always been the union's intention to control this situation. Local unions should consult their international headquarters in these actions and should be guided by the recommendations of their leaders."

As an example of a "wildcat" suit, Federoff referred to a $20 million action filed by three former employees of the Dravo Shipbuilding Corp. of Pittsburgh. The company's local union—CIO Maritime and Shipbuilding workers—has repudiated the suit stating that its membership voted to refrain from filing suit.

In 1944 the U. S. Congress made it a misdemeanor for a person to stow away on an airplane. The punishment is a $1,000 fine or one year imprisonment.

New Castle Woman Farm Show Winner

HARRISBURG, Jan. 16.—(INS)—George H. and C. E. Bortz of Uniontown today held the grand and reserve grand championship awards for Hereford beef cattle entered in the Pennsylvania farm show at Harrisburg.

They won top divisional prizes for a bull and cow exhibited in the large arena of the farm show building.

Other awards were:

Home economics—(Coverall and short, aprons) Frances Condo, Spring Mills; (accessories) Eleanor Donley, New Castle; (remodeled garment) Dorothy White, Hickory, R. D.; (patching) Shirley Lane, South Fork.

Salvation Army Clubs Are Active

Youngsters Have Skating Party; Young People To Attend Rallies Friday, Saturday

Forty-four members of the Salvation Army's youth club went roller skating at a local skating rink Wednesday evening.

Members of the Women's Home League are meeting this evening to plan an attendance contest and have a birthday party for several members.

Older young people will go to Pittsburgh Friday night for a session of the Allegheny Youth Fellowship. In the amateur show, which is to be part of the program, Fred Putt will represent the local group with magic tricks.

On Saturday afternoon members of the Corps Cadets will attend a sectional rally in Kittanning, at which territorial Young People's Secretary Brigadier Ted Carey, of New York, will be present. Between the afternoon and evening meetings a buffet supper will be served.

MEASLES EPIDEMIC

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 16.—(INS)—An epidemic of measles continued to increase in Allegheny county last week according to figures released today by the health department. A total of 741 new cases were reported as compared to 583 in the previous week, it was announced.

Brinton Traces Aid To Public

Executive Director Of Board
Of Public Assistance
Gives Fine Talk At Kiwanis

MANY NEEDY BEING AIDED

In an interesting talk to New Castle Kiwanis club members at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Wednesday noon, John P. Brinton, executive director of the Lawrence County Board of Public Assistance traced the development of public assistance to the present day, and showed how much those in need received during the great depression of 1929 to 1941.

The first provisions for public poor relief were made in 1876, Mr. Brinton stated, when the "Duke's laws" were put into effect. The "Great Law," passed by William Penn's first assembly, he stated, contained provisions for the care of the poor. In 1731, the first almshouse was erected in Philadelphia. Later poor laws and welfare laws were passed by various states and increasing aid was given to the needy by states and counties.

ed. In 1934, a blind pension plan was adopted and in December, 1934, the budgetary deficiency method of determining need was authorized for all direct relief grants. In 1936, it was found that relief orders were not satisfactory and a state-wide cash relief program was inaugurated and administration was reorganized. This was followed by the establishment of the Department of Public Assistance. In 1938, county poor boards were abolished and outdoor relief cases were transferred to the DPA. Other changes continued, assistance policies were revised and residence requirements were liberalized. The support law was revised to remove responsibility for grandparents and grandchildren. Blind pensions were increased from $30 to $40 per month. In 1946, food allowances were increased.

Individual Payments Increase
The average monthly grant per case has grown from $28.80 for a family and $11.46 for an individual in 1938, to $43.36 per family and $25.80 for an individual in 1946. Reviewing the records for Lawrence county, he stated that the figures for assistance, which

ACCUSES HUSBAND OF BEING UNTRUE 22 SPECIFIC TIMES

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—(INS)—Walter R. Kirk, 73-year-old retired soap manufacturer, was accused today by his wife, Louisa M. Kirk, 48, of 22 specific acts of unfaithfulness and infidelity since 1942.

Mrs. Kirk's charges were set forth in a bill of particulars filed in Chicago circuit court by her attorneys in connection with her cross-bill for separate maintenance. Kirk has a divorce suit on file which charges his wife with desertion.

The case is scheduled for trial Feb. 13.

The Kirks were married Dec. 13, 1934, and separated in April, 1943.

FRANCO IS ACCUSED

BEL GRADE, Jan. 16.—(INS)—The Yugoslav News Agency in a dispatch from Budapest today accused Generalissimo Franco of Spain of encouraging plotters to overthrow the Hungarian government.

The News Agency alleged that Spanish ruler promised funds and arms to the plotters who were arrested by Hungarian police.

The Ohio river is 975 miles long and the area drained by it is computed to be 110,000 square miles.

After all, what is
"A BARGAIN?"

Surely it's not just a price that looks "cheap" but is so dear in the long run!

Nor can it be a "bargain" if its style is passe or its quality is not up to the mark.

It must have all three—Style, Quality AND Low Price—to make it a real bargain.

Earn Too Much; Must Get Out Of Low-Rent Housing

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 16.—(INS).—More than 1100 Pittsburgh families today were faced with the paradoxical problem of having earned too much money to be permitted to continue living in the government's low-rent housing projects.

The families have "earned" their way out of the projects by making more money than the $1,500 to $2,000 a year income limit for residents of the government housing developments.

Charles C. Klein, administrator of the Pittsburgh Housing authority, declared that no families will be evicted but that they will be asked to move to make room for families with smaller incomes.

Farmer-Aviators Of State Organize

HARRISBURG, Jan. 16.—(INS).—A newly established organization of farmer-aviators today held the spotlight at the Pennsylvania Farm Show in Harrisburg.

The group of 150 flyers organized at the Harrisburg airport after traveling to the exposition by train and automobile when fog and rain had grounded their airplanes.

Officers were elected and by-laws governing membership established. Persons holding pilot's licenses and principal capital investments in farm lands, equipment or livestock were made eligible.

The new organization was named Flying Farmers of Pennsylvania.

Most of the charter members hold pilot's licenses while at least 30 own airplanes and have farm landing fields.

Plans for rural aviation were outlined by Forrest Watson, of Thomas, Okla., president of the national organization.

Gerald Tyler, New Milford poultry farmer, was elected president of the Keystone State branch.

Other officers chosen were: vice president, Fern Ahrand, Lewistown dairyman; secretary-treasurer, Willis Dietrick, Benton; and directors, Ralph Lehman, York; Ralph Hertzler, Elberton; Albert Miller, Avelin; and Fred Halling, Kane.

Local Missionary Arrives In India

According to word received by Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Blews, R. D. No. 5, their daughter, Miss Ruth Blews, who left New York City on December 12 aboard the S.S. Taranakan, has arrived safely at Ceylon, India, after a 26-day trip.

Miss Blews, who will work under the Christian and Missionary Alliance Board in India for the next seven years, will have to undergo an extensive period of language study for the next two years before she can go out and conduct services at the various mission stations of the continent.

The missionary appointee, a graduate of God's Bible school in Cincinnati, O., and the Missionary Training Institute, Nyack, N. Y., spent several years in this country in conducting summer Bible schools and other home mission work before embarking for India.

BAD LEADERSHIP CHARGED TO CIO IN PORTAL SUITS

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 16.—(INS)—President T. M. Evans of the H. K. Porter company today charged "irresponsible leadership" to the CIO-United Steelworkers union in answer to a two million dollar portal-to-portal suit in Pittsburgh.

Evans said that portal wages have been paid for years in the company's Lawrenceville Locomotive works, adding that suit filed against the company was without factual basis and could have been avoided if any reasonable investigation had been made by union leaders.

The executive said no counterclaim is planned, but instead the company is considering the possibility of filing a breach of contract suit against the steelworkers local for participating in last year's steel strike when the company's contract did not expire until May 1.

IRATE MOTHERS BAND TO ERASE PIN-BALL RACKETS

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 16.—(INS)—Pinball machines in suburban Wilkensburg today had suddenly broken out in a rash of "out-of-order" signs as 2,000 mothers organized and threatened to collectively and permanently "kill" the devices.

Mrs. Joseph F. McMahon, president of the borough's council of Parent-Teacher Association, said the women would "try to get the evidence" that the machines pay off in cash, by raiding establishments owning pinball devices.

The mothers charge that proprietors permit school children to play the machines and they often lose their lunch money and go without their noon meal.

HANDSOME ITALIAN SEEKING U. S. WIFE

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 16.—(INS)—If you're an average American miss, consider yourself proposed to.

Dominic Mancini, 26, "a handsome, well-built fellow"—as he describes himself—wants to marry an "average American girl."

Mancini, of Abruzzi, L'Aquila, Italy, wrote a letter to Army Capt. Isaac Gargano, of nearby McKees Rocks, requesting Gargano to find him an American bride so he can come to the United States.

Mancini said he wants to leave Italy because "everything is high and the roads are still dark ahead."

What People Say

MINNEAPOLIS—Alf M. Landon, 1936 Republican presidential nominee: "No longer can America close its eyes to the fact that, as a street fight may turn into a riot, so may a minor border dispute flare into the next world war."

WASHINGTON—The Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, on his installation as presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church: "With new and terrifying weapons of destruction, without a new understanding and spirit, man stands on the verge of not divine but self-destruction, this on the world not of the preacher but of the scientist and the military leader."

BOSTON—Dr. Charles J. Turck, president of the Association of American Colleges, flays peace-time conscription: "The American people do not want conscription in peace time. If the present congress, awed by militarism, should re-impose the draft, the people will at the first opportunity compel a reversal."

HELPING HAND CLASS PARTY

On Tuesday evening the Helping Hand class met at the home of Ruth Young with Helen Bricker as co-hostess. Entertainment was in charge of Mrs. Ivy Walton and Mrs. Herbert Wilson. Games of all descriptions were played and prizes were awarded to Helen Bricker, Mary Patterson, Vivian Walton, Mildred Gibson, Esther Shaffer and Maida Houston. Door prizes were drawn by Jane Reher and Mary Patterson. At the close of the evening a delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Marie Young.

Next meeting will be a Valentine party February 11, using a Valentine box for "secret pal" valentines.

Jesus Interviewed By Nicodemus

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

Nicodemus' visit to Jesus.
"Praise ye Jehovah; for Jehovah is good."—Psalm 135:3.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for January 19 is John 3, the Memory Verse being Psalm 135:3, "Praise ye Jehovah; for Jehovah is good.")
"There was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews. The same came to Jesus by night, and said unto Him, Rabbi, we know that Thou art a teacher come from God; for no man can do these miracles that Thou doest, except God be with Him."
"This man Nicodemus, who belonged to the powerful Sanhedrin, ruling body of the Jews, came to Jesus at night because he knew the Master and the miracles He performed, and had come to believe that He had come direct from God. He came at night, why we do not know. Possibly because he thought he could have a quiet, undisturbed talk with Jesus, and also quite as possibly because he did not want his friends and associates to know that he sought this interview because he was not satisfied with the views he had been taught and had heretofore believed, but sought more spiritual guidance.

He addressed Jesus as "Rabbi", a term of respect meaning great or master. It shows what an impression this Man of Galilee had made upon him.

Must Be Born Again

"Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except one be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God."

Nicodemus was astonished at this language. How could a grown man be born again? Could he enter his mother's womb and be born again as if he was an infant?

Jesus explained that it was a spiritual birth. If he accepted the faith that Jesus taught he surely would have a re-birth, be a new man, not in his body, but in his mind, his spirit, his whole outlook on this life and the life to come.

"That which is born of the flesh is flesh," Jesus told him, "and that which is born of the spirit is spirit."

"Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again."
"The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth; so is every one that is born of the spirit."

When Nicodemus answered, "How can these things be?" Jesus' answer was, "Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and testify that we have seen; and ye receive not our witness."

"If I have told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe, if I tell you of heavenly things?"

Jesus then referred Nicodemus to the Old Testament story of Moses lifting up the serpent in the wilderness, that those bitten by serpents should be healed. "Even so must the Son of man be lifted up."

"For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

"For God sent not His Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through Him might be saved."

Jesus Goes to Judea

After these things Jesus and His disciples went to Judea and tarried there, and Jesus baptized many. We are not told if Nicodemus believed and accepted Jesus' gospel, or anything more about him.

Near Judea John the Baptist also was baptizing, for John was not yet cast into prison. Now some of John's disciples came to him and told him that "he that was with thee beyond Jordan, to whom thou bearest witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and all men come to Him."

This was the crucial test for John. His disciples evidently were jealous that this man Jesus was baptizing more men than John. John answered them, "A man can receive nothing, except it be given him from heaven. Ye yourselves bear me witness, that I said, I am not the Christ, but that I am sent before Him."

Further John said, "He that cometh from above is above all: he that is of the earth is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: he that cometh from heaven is above all."

"The Father loveth the Son, and hath given all things into His hand. He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life; and he that believeth not on the Son shall not see life."

Thus did John show what manner of man he was, and testified to his faith in the Master.

TO RETURN COLORS OF 79TH DIVISION TO COMMONWEALTH

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—(INS)—The colors of Pennsylvania's 79th Division will be returned to the commonwealth tonight in ceremonies at Philadelphia's Union League. Senator Edward Martin will be a witness as Maj. Gen. I. P. Wyche, the division's wartime commander, turns the colors over to Brig. Gen.

Robert W. Wilson, peacetime division leader.

The "Cross of Lorraine" division is the largest single organized reserve corps unit in the state.

The 79th was reactivated at Camp Pickett, Va., in 1942, and later participated in the liberation of Cherbourg, the defeat of Von Rundstedt's drive and the capture of Essen. During the first world war, it was active in the Meuse-Argonne sector.

Three Killed As Private Airplane Crashes In South

WAKE FOREST, N. C., Jan. 16.—(INS)—Authorities today were investigating the crash of a twin-engine private plane four miles northwest of Wake Forest last night in which three men lost their lives.

The privately-owned plane was believed en route from Washington, D. C., to Miami.

Two of the dead were identified as Charles Allen Sherwin and Garrett G. Gregg, owner of the plane, both of Washington.

The third body was tentatively identified as that of Frederick W. Mellow, Jr.

However, names found in the debris pointed to the possibility that the third man might be either James J. Walker, Jr., of Gathersburg, Va., or Lt. Comdr. William Helvestine, U. S. Coast Guard Reserve, address unknown.

The plane apparently was off its course and attempting a forced landing when it grazed the tops of some trees and crashed and burned in a pine grove.

A farmer who saw the plane rip into the trees found the pilot still alive. The flyer died shortly after being pulled from the wreckage.

Non-Strike Clause Must Be Developed

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 16.—(INS)—A non-strike clause with compensating concessions to the Duquesne Light company's independent union was seen today as a solution to Pittsburgh's power strike problem, as arbitration hearings in the dispute neared an end.

George E. Strong, chairman of the arbitration board, expressed the opinion yesterday that a non-strike clause must be developed, adding that management and labor have equal responsibility to the public for continuous utility service.

New Castle Faces Tough Section Three Battle At Sharon Friday

Unbeaten Tigers To Provide Stern Test For Hurricane Quint

Red And Black Confronted With Tough Assignment In Halting Tigers' March; New Castle Win Could Check Bengals' Determined Drive For Section Honors.

Bill Douglass' New Castle high passers have everything to gain and little to lose as they prepare to invade Sharon Friday night for their resumption of Section III warfare. A New Castle upset of the high-riding Bengals could at least temporarily check the Colodi passers' march to section honors and at the same time pull the "Whiz Kids" even for the season with two victories and an equal number of defeats.

Tigers Too Tough
The Mercer county five has proved too tough for four of their opponents thus far in loop play. Ellwood City, Ambridge, Beaver Falls and Aliquippa have fallen before the sharp-clawed Tigers and there is little reason to doubt that the Colodi lads will continue their winning ways against the locals. Any team that can invade the courts of Ambridge and the "Guips" and hang defeats on them surely will be doubly tough on their own hard-wood.

New Castle Cooled
After stunning the section with their win over Ambridge in their opener, the Red and Black continued to play fine ball even while dropping a one-point decision to Beaver Falls. Against Aliquippa they came a cropper however, holding their own in the first half but succumbing to the Indians in the second half to lose, 39-21.

The "Kids" are not taking their two defeats to heart, though, and have been ardently drilling all week for their big game tomorrow night. If the Douglass lads can get "hot" they may even give the snarling Tigers a bad evening.

May Change Lineup
Coach Douglass said today that he will probably alter his lineup for the game. Don Spears has been ill all week and may not be on the starting array, and the Hurricane mentor may "up" Piccirilli from the "Jayvees" to a starting berth.

Big Al Tate, standout tackle on the football team, reported to Douglass Monday and asked for a chance to try out. Although he has never played the floor game before, big Al has all the physical requirements to make the grade. Over six feet in height and weighing 200 pounds, the griddier may get his chance against Sharon due to the great lack of rainy lads on the squad this season.

This revised lineup would still keep Don Black at a forward, "Chuck" Rea at center, and Waters and Cialella at the guards.

Lauds Tigers
Douglass witnessed the Sharon-Aliquippa game Tuesday night and pronounced the Tigers as little less than terrific.

"In Bane Weber, they have the best center in the section," said the Hurricane mentor, "but on the big he controls the ball beautifully and is the drive-wheel of the team. Bartosh at forward also impressed me."

Union CAA Has Fine Meeting

Union Civic And Athletic Association Replaces Union A.A. In Name

At a meeting last night of the Union A.A. President Dan Radabaugh revealed that the name of the organization had been changed. Due to the fact that an organization exists in the High school, in name only, but is used to transfer funds from the school board to the coaching staff for athletic purposes, so a name was chosen by contest among the High school students.

William Pearce, a student at Union selected the prize winning name and the organization will continue as Union Civic and Athletic association. Plans were laid last night for an extensive membership drive with C. Edward Donnelly chairman of the membership committee. The drive will take the form of a contest among the students of the four high school grades at Union.

Next meeting of the association will be Wednesday, Feb. 5.

'Y' To Sponsor Cage Tournament

Junior And Senior Groups Will Compete For City-County Honors In March

James Dart, director of physical education at the central branch of the Y. M. C. A., announced today that the association will again sponsor a City-County basketball tournament this year with play beginning in March.

It is planned to hold a dual tournament involving junior and senior groups. The juniors will be from 14 to 17 years of age, it was announced. Handsome prizes will be given to all players entering. Registration will not be opened until the latter part of February.

K. Pulaski Champs
Defending champions are the K. Pulaski passers who defeated the Polish Falcons last year to annex the title. The Al Gonet-coached team (if they enter) will be meeting some stiff competition to successfully defend their laurels for the city has been bolstered with some fine floor combinations this winter.

Imposing Prizes
Mr. Dart declared that this year's tourney should be the biggest and best ever held in the city. "With interest in basketball definitely on the upswing in New Castle and with so many fine independent teams playing ball, this tournament should hit a new high in quality of play and spectator appeal," the director said.

"The association has acquired an imposing array of prizes for the winners and each player that enters the games will be awarded a statuette for his role in the tourney." NNJhl rd

Universals Edge S. S. Lions 45-43

Universal Pottery basketball team edged the South Side Lions 45 to 43 in a thriller at Franklin High floor Tuesday evening with Williams, Stewart and Jancovic starring for the Potters and Moses and J. Fair for the losers.

On Championship Team
This win brought about the MTO-ETO game for the supremacy of the occupation forces and for the first time the Mediterranean eleven won, 44-40. It was in this game that the little New Castle signal-caller reached his playing heights in the flawless direction of his men.

After the game Panella said: "I thank my dad for letting us boys play the game and I also thank Father Schirra of St. Joseph grade school for teaching me the fundamentals of the sport."

Proof of the caliber of Panella's ability is the fact that he displaced a Michigan State player and a Harvard ace for the quarterback spot.

Junior Rifle Club To Meet Tonight

Members of the New Castle Junior rifle club will have an important meeting tonight at the Cathedral range at 8 o'clock. It was announced by Secretary Gordon McCartney. The club will hold a postal match. A match with the Ellwood Junior club is to be decided upon tonight.

Titans Tounce Waynesburg 57-46 For Tenth Win

Bill McLhinney Again High Scorer As Westminster Dazzles Yellow Jackets

BATTLE BETHANY IN WEST VIRGINIA

WAYNESBURG, Jan. 16.—A dazzling Blue and White clad Westminster College Titan basketball team took all the sting out of the Waynesburg Yellow Jackets here last night at College gym, winning by the convincing score of 57 to 46 for their tenth triumph in 12 collegiate starts this year. Westminster departed after the game for Bethany, W. Va., to take on the Bisons tonight.

A sudden Westminster scoring rush in the first period turned the trick. The Grover Washabaughmen being in front 19 to 6 when the first stanza came to an end. At halftime the visitors from Lawrence county had a 35 to 21 advantage.

Waynesburg Rallies
Content after gaining a big lead in the first half, the Titans seemed to be coasting the third period as Coach Washabaugh sent in his reserves to give the regulars a rest. Waynesburg won the third stanza, 11 to 9, and also the final period 14 to 13, as the Titan regulars resumed play.

Bill McLhinney continued his high scoring antics being the top man in this respect again last night with 13 points. To keep him well among the leading scorers in the district, while big "Chet" Dembinski flipped in 11 more points to make his total for the year 161 and keep him as the leading scorer in the Tri-State district. Heddleston and Jones, with 11 points apiece, also played great ball and so did big Freddy Paine with nine points.

Best in the Waynesburg lineup was Kubacka with 10 and Burr with 8 points. Waynesburg has a fine record to date, but were no matches for the Westminster. The Titans having defeated Bethany at Westminster in December, 71 to 56, should grab off their 11th win in collegiate circles tonight. Saturday the Titans play at Juniata in a return game at Huntingdon.

Teammate Lauds Local Soldier On Service Grid Team

Feats Of Peter Panella Extolled By Fellow G.I. In Mediterranean Theater

A teammate who prefers to remain anonymous has sent a letter to The News sports staff lauding the play of Pete Panella who enjoyed a great season at quarterback in games played in Europe this past season with service grid teams.

Panella's fellow player writes that the 199-b ace directed his team to six victories while losing one game by a 7-6 score. After the conclusion of the regular season Panella was picked to pilot the 88th Division eleven and his team won the Mediterranean title, 20-0.

On Championship Team
This win brought about the MTO-ETO game for the supremacy of the occupation forces and for the first time the Mediterranean eleven won, 44-40. It was in this game that the little New Castle signal-caller reached his playing heights in the flawless direction of his men.

After the game Panella said: "I thank my dad for letting us boys play the game and I also thank Father Schirra of St. Joseph grade school for teaching me the fundamentals of the sport."

Pulaskis Laced By Warren Quint

K. Pulaski's "Big Five" lost their second game in a row last night at Warren, O. when the Durfees of that city laced them 67-43. The K. P.'s had previously handed this same time a beating here.

Andrews paced the Pulaski passers in the defeat with a total of 16 points. Schedule for the next few days is as follows: tonight, the Youngstown Steelton Merchants will show here; Sunday it will be Steubenville at the K. P. court; Monday the Pierce Big Five will be met in Pittsburgh; Tuesday the West Virginia Legion of Holidays Cove will be in town; Wednesday it will be the Aliquippa Legion; and Thursday the Westminster Collegians will come here for a battle.

K. Pulaski Cubs To Play Tonight

K. Pulaski Cubs basketball team, winners of 12 and defeated but twice this year, will play the Shenango All-Stars tonight at the K. P. hall at 7:15 o'clock. Coach Stan Plonka announced that Sunday the Cubs will play the Strong Stoneboro Merchants at the K. P. hall at 2 o'clock. This team is made up of former Stoneboro High stars.

Legion Team To Play Aliquippa

Fast Beaver Valley Floor Outfit Will Be Here Saturday Night For Game With Locals

Local floor fans who want to see some fast basketball will have the opportunity on Saturday evening, when the Perry S. Gaston Post five winners of the first half championship in the Lawrence County league, will play the fast Aliquippa Legion team, composed of former high school and college stars.

The Gaston Post team is really clicking at the present time, but will have some real opposition from the Beaver valley boys, who have a well-balanced aggregation, and a fast and furious contest can be looked forward to.

Sacred Hearts will meet a good team in the preliminary starting at 7:15 p. m.

Joe Tinker Slated To Lose Left Leg At Orlando Today

One Of Greatest Infielders Of All Time Faces Amputation; Wagner Griefs

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 16.—(INS)—Honus Wagner, one of Joe Tinker's bitter enemies on the baseball diamond three and four decades ago today was pulling for a speedy recovery of the famous infielder of the Chicago Cubs whose left leg was to be amputated at Orlando, Fla., today.

"I never thought I'd see that guy off his feet," durable, bandy-legged, "Flying Dutchman" of the Pittsburgh Pirates said. "I know you couldn't get him down when I played against him."

Took Manager's Job
Wagner recalled that Tinker went to Orlando "about 1920" as manager of the Orlando team of the Florida State league at Wagner's suggestion.

"Walter Niven wanted me to take the job, but I was in business," Wagner said. "I recommended Tinker, and he took it."

Wagner, who likes to talk about the good old days when baserunners always went into second with flying spikes, said he never spiked Tinker.

"He was too foxy," the Dutchman recalled today. "I'd start in there and think I had him, but when I got there he was gone—and so was the ball to first base for a double play."

"I'll be seeing Tinker in Orlando next month when the Pirates go down there for spring training," Wagner said. He recently signed his 1947 contract as a Pirate coach.

Polish Falcons Bump Aliquippa

South Side Five Proves Too Tough For Celtics Who Are Beaten By Score Of 57 To 36

Polish Falcon cagers had little trouble last night on their home floor as they turned back the Aliquippa Celtics 57-36, with E. Koszela, Wenda and Adams leading the scoring parade.

Secarelli of the Celtics led both teams in total points with 14. The Falcon B's lost their first game in ten starts when they were tripped by the New Castle Merchants in the prelim, 41-40.

BAXTER BEATS ED. RICHARDSON

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Jan. 16.—Russell Baxter, middleweight of New Castle, last night easily defeated Eddie Richardson in 10 rounds. Richardson was the favorite going into the ring but Baxter won with ease. Baxter substituted for Sonny Horne.

Two More Pirates Sign Contracts

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 16.—(INS)—Pitcher Nick Strincevich and Infielder Eddie Basinski today had returned signed contracts to play with the Pittsburgh Pirates next summer.

General Manager Roy Hamey of the Pirates announced the contracts of the two were received yesterday.

Basinski, who played with St. Paul in the American Association most of last summer, recently was purchased from the Brooklyn Dodgers. He plays both second base and shortstop.

Strincevich, who won 30 games in two seasons before 1946, wound up the past season with a record of 10 wins and 15 losses.

Sportsman's Council To Convene Friday

There will be a meeting of the Lawrence County Council of sportsmen at 8 o'clock Friday night at the Ellwood City Rod and Gun club, according to George Bollinger. Election of officers will be held and matters of importance to the council will be discussed. Representatives of clubs affiliated with the council are requested to attend.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

COME June 22 and Joe Louis will have been 10 years earning $2,000,000, proving an athletic hero, a credit to his race and free with philanthropy. It was exactly that long since he knocked off the crown from Jimmie Braddock, the cinderella boy of boxing, in Chicago. There's no question but that Joe is one of the all-time greats of heavyweight history. No doubt he will fight several times before the shades are drawn down on 1947, then retire. . . . Leon Rains of Philadelphia, chairman of the state boxing commission, unfolded some ring statistics of Pennsylvania boxing for 1946, as follows: 899 pro and amateur boxing cards attracted 1,082,037 to bulge the promoters' pockets to the extent of $671,167, gross receipts, of which the state received in taxes $88,606 and $23,375, in license fees for lighters, managers, referees and others in the business. He reported the finest imposed amount to $2,212. The top Montgomery fight last year was the Montgomery-Moutzon lightweight titular bout, November 26, when Montgomery knocked out Moutzon in the eighth round. Incidentally, the bout also proved the last for Moutzon, having received a permanent injury to one of his eyes, a risk every boxer undertakes every time he fights. . . . There should be plenty of action tonight in the Mickie Doyle vs. Charlie Padalino bout, pro' middleweights, at Youngstown.

Smead Jolley, jovial character who played with the Chicago White Sox outlived several years ago, often is linked with stories told by Lew Fonseca, promotion director of the major leagues film division. "I remember one day when I had given Smead instructions on signals I'd use from the coaching box," Fonseca said. "I told him that if I winked with my left eye, he should make a break for second. Well, Smead got on base. I winked. Hanged if he didn't wink back at me, not budging off the base. After this had gone on for some time, Joe Kuhel, first baseman for Washington, couldn't stand it any longer and yelled: 'Say, if you boys aren't having too big a crowd tonight, maybe I can go along with you.'"

Many of the nation's top milers are back in action this year, among them being Gil Dodds, Bill Hulse, Frank Dixon, Jim Rafferty, Tom Quinn and Earl Mitchell.

When a person pays one dollar for a membership in the Lawrence County Sportsman's Association, 50 cents of the "buck" goes to buy game and fish. . . . About 1,000 of 11,380 who took-out county licenses to hunt last year, belong to a sportsman's association, which is not a record to shout about. . . . Seldom does one see Ernie Hill, former middleweight boxer, around a fight ring nowadays. . . . There are four members of the Youngstown Bells in the boxing game: Shelton, a pro, Ike, an amateur, Tommy, a pro, and Shed, an amateur. Shelton lost to Billy Fox, Ike lost to Bill Pozza in Ellwood, Tommy lost to Ray Robinson and track of Shed's accomplishments has been lost. . . . Some amateur boxers do as well financially as do pro' preliminary boys. . . . Gambling interests and sports do not mix any better than alcohol and gasoline. . . . Bill Castle Whiz Kids will play Sharon Friday night at Sharon. . . . Bill Bradley has been invited by the Allegheny Mountain Association, A. A. U., to enter the February 12, 13, 18 Golden Gloves tournament at Pittsburgh. . . . The 2:30 p. m. Sunday meeting at Sylvan Heights club-house will find the executive committee and chairmen of the various committees in attendance.

Mrs. Wants Zivic To Stop Boxing

Any Fighter, Even Fritzie, Slows Down After 30, And He Is Now 33

By JIMMY JORDAN (International News Service Sports Writer)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 16.—You can take it from the person who knows Fritzie Zivic best—Mrs. Ferdinand Henry Zivic herself—the former king of welterweights should hang up his gloves for good, and right now.

Mrs. Fritzie, somewhat incensed but perhaps a mite pleased, too, at the attack of Abe Greene of the National Boxing Association upon her spouse and his lack of "fire" in the ring recently, today told International News Service:

Should Quit Now

"I've been trying to get Fritzie to quit boxing for more than a year. Any fighter, even Fritzie, slows down after he's 30, and Fritzie is 33."

"Besides, he's had more professional fights than almost any other boxer. He should quit right now. Greene had asserted Zivic should retire 'for the good of the game' and to protect 'his good name.'"

But as Mrs. Zivic puts it:

"He loves to box, and he's kept on boxing against my wishes because he still feels he can beat a lot of fellows in his weight and he just likes to get in there."

Drew Large Indoor "Gate"

Zivic has had more than 300 fights since he first started fighting as a professional in 1931, before he was 18 years old. He had fought three years as an amateur before that.

It was on Oct. 4, 1940, that he hammered out a 15-round decision to take the welterweight championship from "Hammerin' Henry" Armstrong in Madison Square Garden. Three months later he knocked out Armstrong in a title rematch fought before the largest paid attendance ever to see an indoor fight—23,190 customers.

Johnny Bengtson, Penn. State's one boxing champion a year ago is on the sidelines with a sprained back.

Play To Win Or Drop Game

Calls Rev. John J. Cavanaugh's Speech At Irish Banquet, Sane, Sensible

URGES NOTRE DAME'S RETURN TO NEW YORK

By BILL CORUM
(International News Service Staff Writer)
NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—(INS)—Nothing that we have heard or read about college football in a long time has seemed to us as sane and sensible as the address delivered by the Rev. John J. Cavanaugh, president of Notre Dame, at the annual testimonial dinner to the N. D. team at South Bend on Monday evening.

Father Cavanaugh didn't say so in as many words but strongly, and correctly, intimated that there is nothing like a few losing games to start the colleges to singing the old and threadbare tune of reform and overemphasis.

There are just two things that any college can do about football, as we see it. Play the game all out to win, cleanly and fairly as Notre Dame always has done. Or do what Chicago University did—quit playing the game, except possibly informally as a bit of exercise and recreation, altogether.

Wants Irish To Return
This column still believes that the time is ripe and that the tide runs properly for somebody with influence to set up an annual big N. D. championship game at season's end for N. Y. C. such as has been previously suggested here.

But it would only be boring for the column to continue to belabor the subject. And, since we are not a Notre Dame man but only a N. Y. fan of the university and its football team, it really is no business of ours.

No Apologies To Make
That father Cavanaugh's address indicates, at least by inference, that such a game would fit into the N. D. football scheme, we believe. He says that the university has no apologies about wanting winners. Why should it? If a school doesn't want a winner, why should it want a team?

Personally, speaking as an old grad, I'd prefer that the schools I attended drop collegiate football rather than to come up, year after year, with some sort of haphazard, touch-football aggregation.

Both Lou Little and Earle Blaik are intimate friends of mine and will be always, from my side at least. But I must believe that Lou's attitude of the other so-called Ivy colleges building up to beat powerful Penn. rather than dropping it from the schedule is preferable to Blaik's: "We'll never beat Notre Dame again!"

Hopes Something Is Done
Whether it can or can't, those of us who love Army like to think it can lick the world doing anything. Furthermore, I'd be willing to risk a small wager that within the next five years Army will at some time have a football team as good as Notre Dame's.

So much for all that. I'm still hoping that somebody in a position to do so will do something about trying to bring Notre Dame back to our town each autumn. I believe it can be done if the right people will give it the old college try.

James Is Selected As Cornell Coach

ITHACA, N. Y., Jan. 16.—(INS)—George K. (Lefty) James is the new head football coach at Cornell University.

James, who had been assistant coach at Cornell for the past 10 years, was promoted last night to succeed Ed McKeever, resigned.

James, ever since his school days at Bellefonte academy in Pennsylvania, and at Bucknell, North Carolina and Cornell has been under the tutelage of Carl J. Snavely either as a player or assistant coach. Snavely now is coach at the University of North Carolina.

James will retain the seven-man coaching staff which assisted McKeever.

Carnegie Tech Ends Long Losing Streak

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 16.—(INS)—The Carnegie Tech Tartans last night ended a victory famine in two sports by defeating the Case basketball 51-43 before a small crowd of 500 in Pittsburgh.

The victory was the first the Tartans have won in both football and basketball since the grid season opened last fall.

Forward Tasso Katselas led the scoring for the victors with a total of 16. He conducted a one-man scoring spree in the final quarter, nabbing nine points.

Doyle And Padalino To Battle Tonight

YOUNGSTOWN, Jan. 16.—Fight fans of eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania are looking forward to a spectacular middleweight fight at "Yo-Arena" tonight when Ireland's Mickie Doyle battles Charles Padalino, of Detroit, in a bout scheduled for 10 rounds. Doyle is popular with fans because of his past fights here, and Padalino's introduction may best be stated by recalling he broke even in two Cleveland battles with rugged, hard-hitting Mike Berschovich of Niles. There will be several good preliminaries.

HOUSE LEAGUE GAMES
Milton A. C. and the South Side Lions will clash tonight for the leadership of the "Y" House league at 6:30 o'clock. Both teams are undefeated to date.

In the second game the Keystone five and the Ramblers will tangle at 7:30 o'clock.

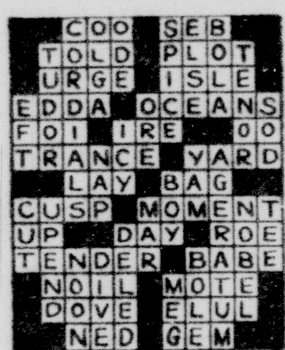

Friday night the Miltons will play the Johnson Bronze team and Saturday they will meet the Enns Brook Boosters in the prelim to the New Castle Lions-Pittsburgh Steelers game at 7 o'clock.

When tea was first used in England it cost $30 to $50 a pound.

Nearly 40,000 State Jobholders Now Face Shakeup

HARRISBURG, Jan. 16.—(INS)—Approximately 40,000 state jobholders were faced today with a personnel shakeup when Governor-elect James H. Duff's cabinet takes over administrative duties.

Duff completed his cabinet announcements last night; all appointees will be subject to confirmation of the Republican-dominated State Senate except David R. Perry of Altoona, the governor's secretary.

The governor-elect said he would give cabinet members full authority to retain or dismiss workers, an indication that new political sponsorship would be required to remain on the state payroll.

More than two months of cabinet speculation was ended by Duff when he announced his official family; it will include nine holdovers from ex-Governor Edward Martin's administration.

For the first time in 15 years the cabinet will not include a woman. Duff, however, announced the appointment of Miss S. M. R. O'Hara of Kingston to the state parole board at $9,000 a year when she relinquishes the welfare secretary's post.

'New Deal' Within Tammany Stirring New York Politics

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—(INS)—A "new deal" within Tammany is today the political topic of the hour in New York state politics.

Mayor William O'Dwyer, a popular vote-getter, has set up an organization to get rid of Tammany dead wood and try and restore the power and prestige of the once-powerful New York county Democratic machine.

O'Dwyer's man, as leader of a new insurgent group within Tammany, is Frank J. Sampson, third assembly district leader, an old-time amateur boxer, won Gene Tunney's old Greenwich Village neighborhood. The genial, 49-year-old Sampson has a host of friends and knows his way around in city politics.

The O'Dwyer-Sampson group aims to overthrow the present Tammany leadership of Edward V. Loughlin; Clarence Neal, chairman of the Tammany election committee, and Bert Stand, Tammany secretary.

The new movement has the approval of Democratic State Chairman Paul H. Fitzpatrick.

Sure, I Believe in Signs, Says Horatius McGiverly
Ordinarily our garage is not an open forum. But when Horatius Q. McGiverly (of the Spring Hill McGiverly's) drops in, we get arguments all the way from income taxes to how to milk a goat.
Just yesterday he was arguing about signs, and one of the men suggested it was superstition. "Superstition is it" said Mr. McGiverly as he forgot to return a package of pipe tobacco.
"You can call it superstition if you will, but that sign of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania on your windshield means your car has been inspected and is road-worthy."
All of which brings to mind the fact that January 31 is the last for the current inspection stickers. Better heed Mr. McGiverly and bring your car in.

School Board Members Meet

Many Routine Matters Are Considered At Session On Wednesday Night

New Castle School district received a windfall Wednesday night, January 15, in the amount of $21,779.31. While the check is not yet received, the amount represents the school district's share of the sale of 73 properties sold for delinquent taxes by the county commissioners.

The notice came from County Controller Andrew M. Dodds who made the distribution of the sales proceeds to the various political sub-divisions.

Asks Use Of Gym
Representing the Boosters' club, Austin Cowmeadow appeared before the board and asked for the use of the George Washington junior high school gymnasium for a basketball tournament among the city and county teams. It was brought out in the discussion by the board that the YMCA had usually held these tournaments, and was prepared to hold them this year. It was suggested that representatives of the Boosters' club meet with the YMCA representatives and get the matter straightened out.

Authority was given the senior high school to hold its annual football banquet at any time it was deemed convenient but to the banquet will be invited the basketball team, the track team and the band.
J. C. Wachtman, executive vice president of the Greater New Castle Association, appeared before the board and asked that the GNCA be permitted to get the list of graduates in the senior high school for the purpose of letting member firms of the GNCA use them. The board refused such permission to private business men some months ago and again refused permission but suggested that if such a list was valuable that a letter from the Merchants' Division be sent in.

Ask For Paving
Residents of School street in the Fifth ward asked that the school board join with them in petitioning for the paving of the street and that the board pay its share of the paving. The matter was referred to Solicitor Robert L. Wallace.

Blank diplomas will probably be abandoned in 1948 if the sentiment of the board is made definite by resolution. Superintendent Frank L. Burton suggested that the "blank diploma" plan was not good in that it permitted students not accredited for diplomas to graduate with the class. He explained that where a student had insufficient credits to graduate that he appeared with the class and was given a blank sheet of paper in lieu of a diploma. If and when he made his credits, he was then given the regular diploma.

No action was taken but probably will be taken later. All of which means that if a student has insufficient credits to graduate, he will not appear with his class on commencement night.

The board adjourned until Wednesday night, January 22, when the proposed addition to the senior high school will be discussed. The proposal is to add a wing to the senior high school which will provide a proper cafeteria and some additional class rooms. The indications are that September 1947 will see about 2200 pupils enrolled in the senior high school.

Worry of FALSE TEETH

Slipping or Irritating
Don't be embarrassed by loose false teeth slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a remarkable sense of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gummy goosy, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Many Suggestions Sent To Woman To Stop Hiccoughs

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—(INS)—Hundreds of possible remedies were received today by the family of Anna Mayer, blonde singer, stricken with hic-coughs for the last six weeks.

None proved effective and Miss Mayer and her family placed their hope on the arrival of D. Lester Samuels of the Veterans hospital in Alexandria, La.

Dr. Samuels was given a special leave by President Truman to examine Miss Mayer. Weather has delayed his arrival. He performed an operation four years ago on the girl which halted a similar attack of hiccupping.

Sympathizers have sent 900 letters and 60 telegrams offering their advice on how to stop the attack.

Miss Mayer's brother, William, said that most of the remedies recommended holding the nose while drinking ten swallows of water.

He added that after consulting her personal physician, his sister had eaten some "moldy green cheese and drank as much beer as she could without pausing, without effect."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Approval of 21,073 miles of highway including 10,566 in Pennsylvania, is announced by the Public Roads Administration as comprising the Federal-aid secondary road system as of June 30, 1946.

The Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1944 authorized appropriation of $150,000 a year for each of the first three post-war fiscal years for construction of a system of secondary or feeder roads leading into the Federal-aid highways. For the Federal aid highways $225,000,000 is to be appropriated annually for three years. These sums are to be matched by State or local governments.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 16.—(INS)—It's a de luxe agreement Clarke Gable has with M-G-M now that he's making his first picture in more than 18 months, "The Hucksters".

Clark is guaranteed four months off between each picture. He's very happy about it.

That means the public will see him in no more than three pictures every two years.

Said Clark: "Of course, it might be possible to make two pictures in one year, but that means that I'd only make one the following year."

If circumstances are right, Clark would like to visit England and France this summer after he finishes "The Hucksters". His last visit was as a major in the American air forces, which included bombing missions over the continent.

"Whether I make the trip this year all depends on conditions abroad," he said, "if the people over there are still on meagre rations I probably won't go. It wouldn't seem right."

Clark was glowing in his praise of the English countryside.

"You can't imagine how beautiful it is without seeing it," he said, "it's a perfect spot to spend a vacation."

"Then there are some beautiful golf courses in England. I'm very anxious to play them. When I was over there, I gave them the once-over, but I didn't get a chance to play them. We were too busy."

Your reporter, just over a very bad cold, looked enviously at Clark's blooming health and remarked he looked fine.

"I feel fine," Clark said.

As far as screen dancing is concerned, your reporter has now seen everything. It's one of Gene Kelly's performances in "To Kiss and To Keep".

On one of the biggest sound stages they've built the framework of what is supposed to be an apartment for veterans, with two wings.

The roof is a little better than 40 feet off the ground and that's where Gene starts his dance, on the two-inch wide framework. Then he jumped on a ladder leaning against one wing and swings over the 30-foot space to the other wing. After more dancing on the framework, he jumps out to a rope hanging to the corner of the building and swings to the ground.

It's a very dangerous chore, where a slip could mean serious injury, or worse. Your reporter remarks as much to Gene, who just laughs.

Even if your reporter could dance, which he can't, he wouldn't attempt it for love or money.

O. Max Gardner Is Sworn In As U.S. Ambassador

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(INS)—O. Max Gardner, former undersecretary of treasury, was sworn in Wednesday as ambassador to the Court of St. James preparatory to taking over his post.
Gardner, together with Mrs. Gardner, plan to sail for England on the SS America February 6.
The oath was administered by United States Chief Justice Vinson in the office of Secretary of State Byrnes.

NEW REFRIGERATORS FEATURE MANY CHANGES

Prospective buyers of new refrigerators will find their waiting has not been in vain, for manufacturers are making many improvements in their products, report home economics extension representative of the Pennsylvania State college.

The new refrigerators give the consumer two-temperature storage, better designed storage space and lower operating costs. Some manufacturers are designing refrigerators with two outside doors, one opening to the freezing compartment and the other to the regular storage compartment.

In some models the ice cube freezing unit extends full width of the refrigerator, making a roomy compartment for storing foods already frozen. In other models the door of the freezing compartment drops down to form a shelf. These freezing compartments will maintain a constant temperature of around zero and are planned more for a holding cabinet than for freezing fresh foods.

Greater flexibility of the storage space makes the new refrigerator more usable, according to home economics extension representatives. Some models have as many as a dozen ways in which the shelves can be arranged. Others have hinged shelves that can be dropped down when a higher compartment is desired.

Controlled humidity is a feature of the so-called cold wall refrigerator. Coils, continuing the refrigerant, are built into the wall. This large cold surface causes a constant cold, with little circulation of air, so that foods do not have to be covered to prevent drawing off of moisture and interchange of taste. The cold wall replaces the evaporator so there is no defrosting, but consumers can expect to pay more for this type of refrigerator.
